

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID in recent weeks about cooperation and team work. We heard it other day about some realing in of efforts.

Every morning for years, at out 11:30, the telephone operator in a small Midwestern town received a call from a man asking the exact time.

One day an operator summoned nerve enough to ask him why he regularly.

"I'm foreman of the Smithson at & Bolt Works," he explained. Every day I have to blow the whistle at noon, so I call you to the exact time."

The operator giggled. "That's really funny," she said. "All this we've been setting our clock your whistle!"

MORE AMERICANS died on the highways in 1955 than on the battlefield during the entire Korean war!

The National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," just off the press, shows there were 38,300 traffic deaths in the United States in 1955. Official Defense Department records list the battle deaths in the Korean war at 33,629.

"We don't for a moment want to imply that the highway is as hazardous as the battlefield," said H. Dearborn, president of the council. "But the fact is that the loss to the nation from the 1955 traffic toll is greater in terms of human life than the loss sustained in the Korean war. Therefore, it's certainly worth getting excited about."

Approximately 1,350,000 Americans were injured in motor vehicle accidents during the year, the council said.

TWO COLORED WIMMEN of Hamlin were comparing notes about their husbands the other day.

"Pearl," said one, "who do you reckon's the laziest—your husband or mine?"

"I'm not guessin'," was the reply. "There are had enough with startin' no contests!"

FOXTAIL JOHNSON turns out a mighty interesting blum in the Texas Sheep and Hat Raisin' magazine, printed at an Angelo. We don't think he'd object to our sharing his humor and philosophy with our readers.

All us Johnsons go to the hospital every day to see Uncle Viper and tell him the bad news and hope him too sick to come home, where we'd have him on our hands.

Ringtail Skump has lost all with in human nature since a slicker paid him for a bottle of licker with a counterfeit $5 bill. Of course, the licker was fly tea, the color of panther pee but Ringtail says that was a legitimat trade practice.

OUR BUSINESS in life is not to get ahead of other people, but to get ahead of ourselves. To break our own record, outstrip our yesterdays by today, to bear our trials more beautifully than we ever dreamed could, to whip the temper in and out of us never whipped before, to give as we never given, to do our work with more force and a finer flush than this is the true idea—to lead of ourselves.

People of Area Vote Against Parking Meters in Test Vote

Final Decision To Be Made by Hamlin Voters

In deference to an expression at the polls by the citizens of the Hamlin trade territory, parking meters will remain absent from Hamlin streets until the first of the year.

In an unusual election, in which people of entire trade territory were asked to participate, 402 votes were cast against returning the meters to service and 60 votes for them. Balloting was conducted Saturday at the Hamlin High School building.

The City Council recently had the meters taken out after a group of merchants petitioned the group to remove them for a trial period. The merchants contended that the meters were hurting trade.

The meters were removed for a six-week trial period at that time. Following the Saturday election, they will remain out of service until January 1.

Mayor O. D. Rofand points out that the Saturday vote was merely a referendum vote by the people of the territory. Final decision on the meters will be left up to qualified voters of the City of Hamlin. They will vote in an official vote the latter part of December to ascertain whether or not the meters will be placed back in service.

EVANGELIST for an eight-day revival meeting at the Calvary Baptist Church beginning Sunday will be Rev. W. A. Corley (above), pastor of Jackson Street Baptist Church in Jacksonville. Well known in the denomination, Rev. Corley is a forceful speaker, declares the Calvary pastor, Rev. W. C. Rea.

Frank Waggoner Is Shows Improvement

Frank Waggoner, long time Hamlin druggist, is reported doing much better as The Herald prepared to go to press Wednesday morning, following a heart attack last Wednesday at the store.

Waggoner was in serious condition for several days, being in a coma part of the time.

Jones County Fared Pretty Well in Population Shift During Past 15 Years

Jones County has fared pretty well population-wise during the last 15 years.

While many other counties lost population sharply from 1940 to 1955, Jones County was fairly stable. There was an estimated loss of only 1,000. Jones County's largest towns are Stamford, Hamlin and Anson.

The 1940 population was 23,378. 1950 showed 22,147, and the 1955 population was estimated at 22,398.

These and other facts were brought out in a survey conducted by the Town and Country Commission of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference, of which Rev. John Crow of Abilene is executive secretary.

Hamlin Schools Will Open September 4

Hamlin Schools will begin the 1956-57 school term's work on Tuesday, September 4 (following Labor Day), it was announced this week by C. F. Cook, superintendent of schools.

Class work and registration of primary, elementary and junior high school students will begin with that day. In high school a schedule of pre-registration and assignment of work will be arranged for the week-end preceding the official starting date, Cook said. This schedule will be announced later.

Living Costs Show Rise During May To All-Time Peak

Living costs rose sharply in May, sending the government's index to a level equalling the all-time peak of October, 1953.

The Department of Labor's Bureau of Statistics said the index rose four-tenths of one per cent to 115.4 per cent of the 1947-49 base.

This is 1.1 per cent above May last year and is the same that was reached in October, 1953.

Food prices in May registered their greatest increase for any month since June, 1953, rising 1.3 per cent.

However, food still is slightly below last year's level and nearly five per cent lower than the August, 1952, peak for food alone.

Department of Labor officials who called the May living cost jump "unexpectedly large," said food prices probably will go higher during the summer months until fall harvests come. They hinted the living cost index may achieve a new record level when June data is available next month.

The living cost index has been increasing steadily since last February. Food prices, while lower than last year, have been firming up while costs of other consumer goods and services have been on a gradual rise.

MOORES HAVE GUESTS.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore Sr. were their children and families: Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Compton, Susan, Debbie and Wayne of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore Jr. and Chris of Monroe, Louisiana; First Sergeant and Mrs. Lee R. Howard, Terry and Beth, who have just returned from Japan and will leave Sunday for France.

Interest Mounting as Election Time Nears

92.3 Per Cent of Texas Farmers Favor Wheat Plan

Farmers of the United States have voted for the fourth consecutive year to allow Uncle Sam to restrict the production and sale of wheat.

They approved in a 36-state referendum Friday a Department of Agriculture proposal designed to restrict next year's crop so it will not add to a record-breaking surplus overhanging markets and crowding the nation's storehouses.

Texas approved by 92.3 per cent. Complete returns in 182 Texas wheat counties showed 9,990 for the quotas, 724 against and 136 challenged votes. This compares with 86.6 in favor of quotas on the 1956 crop when 13,041 favorable votes were cast last year.

Virtually complete unofficial national returns gave 228,839 votes for federal marketing quotas and 32,767 against.

This was a favorable majority of 87.5 per cent, far in excess of the necessary two-thirds. In a similar referendum a year ago producers voted 77.3 per cent in favor of quotas on 1956's crop.

In approving controls, farmers assured themselves of a national average price support of $2 per bushel on next year's production, the same as this year. Under farm law, the price support would have dropped to around $1.21 per bushel had the quotas been rejected.

Similar quotas are expected to be proposed for next year's crops of cotton, rice, peanuts and major types of tobacco as well as wheat. Surpluses exist in all these crops.

The 1957 wheat program, like that for the past three crops, is designed to limit plantings to 55,000,000 acres in contrast to the 80,000,000 planted in the immediate post-war years.

Rev. W. A. Corley of Jacksonville to Lead In Calvary Revival

Scheduled to do the preaching in an eight-day revival beginning Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church in Hamlin is Rev. W. A. Corley, pastor of the Jackson Street Baptist Church in Jacksonville. The meeting will continue through Sunday, August 5, declares the pastor, Rev. W. C. Rea.

Rev. Corley, an evangelist of note in the denomination, was in a revival meeting at the Hamlin church last year.

James (Pokey) Woods will lead the singing during the series of services.

Services are slated at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and 8:00 o'clock in the evening, with prayer services planned for 7:30 each evening.

Pastor Rea and his congregation invite the public to attend the revival services.

BI-PARTISAN SYMPATHY—Representative John Saylor (Republican of Pennsylvania (left) and Representative John Dowdy, Democrat of Texas, sympathize with each other as they showed up at the capitol in Washington wearing bandages. They were hurt in separate auto accidents. Saylor suffered a neck injury when his car was hit from behind by another, and Dowdy fractured his left arm when his car went out of control and struck a tree.

Voss Suicide Shocks City

People of Hamlin community were shocked and appalled when news spread Saturday morning that Theodore Roosevelt Voss, parts man at Murrell Chevrolet Company and a deacon at the First Baptist Church, had taken his life by shooting himself.

No motive for the tragedy, which occurred at the family residence at 112 Northwest Second Street, at 9:45 a. m., could be ascertained by The Herald.

Voss and his wife and daughter moved to Hamlin about 18 months ago from Wink when Voss became associated with the motor concern.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock at the Hamlin First Baptist Church, where he and his wife were active in teaching and other capacities. Officiating was Rev. Houston Walker of Lubbock, former pastor. Pallbearers were deacons of the church, of which group he was a member.

Born July 15, 1904, at St. Louis, Missouri, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Voss. He was married to Arzelle Owen on July 14, 1935, at Rayville, Louisiana. He was 52 years of age at the time of his demise.

Surviving Voss are his wife, Mrs. Arzelle Voss of Hamlin; his mother, Mrs. Jenny Voss of Rayville, Louisiana; one daughter, Ora Voss of Abilene and one brother, A. K. Voss of Monroe, Louisiana.

The body was taken to Rayville, Louisiana, for burial.

Jones County Leads District in Bond Sales

Jones County's 1956 United States savings bonds quota is already 83.9 per cent subscribed, it was revealed this week in tabulations of sales by A. C. Humphrey of Stamford, county sales chairman.

Purchases through June totaled $40,047, and the year's quota is $590,000. The Jones County sales record led all other counties in the District 16 report.

AIRMAN VISITS HOME.

Master Sergeant Howard Crow of Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts arrived Tuesday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crow, and other relatives.

Governor's Race Holds Spotlight In State Voting

Although not displaying the usual zeal and enthusiasm for voting in the general primary election on the fourth Saturday in July, Hamlin area voters were expected to turn out in almost full strength at the polls Saturday.

On the state level, the governor's was holding top interest. Although Pappy W. Lee O'Daniel and Ralph Yarborough were not stirring up their usual interest with their shouts of "corruption in Austin," they still have kept the race humming. Price Daniel has been picked as the favorite in the race in most circles.

Race for Congress again this year has engendered considerable interest. Dan Kralis of Abilene is bidding for the seat held by Omar Burleson of Anson.

Only one county race is contested, that being the sheriff's race with three candidates—Dave Reeves, incumbent, and O. Doyle Woody and E. M. Isbell.

In Precinct 3, Lem Ruark is seeking reelection and is opposed by Eldridge Nix.

Voting at Hamlin will be at different locations than in previous years.

Voters in the East Hamlin box, supervised by A. B. Carlton, will ballot at the city hall, which recently was moved from the west precinct to the east precinct.

Voters of the West Hamlin box will cast their votes at the high school building. J. E. Patterson is election judge.

The complete election ballot is being printed on page three of today's Herald.

Light Bulbs to Be Sold by Boys Saturday

Members of the Hamlin Boys' Club will conduct an electric light bulb sale Saturday in Hamlin, under sponsorship of the Hamlin Lions Club, it was announced this week by Lions Club President Edgar Duncan.

A house-to-house canvass of the city will be made by the boys, and they and the Lions will share in the proceeds, it is announced.

Naming of Democratic Delegates to County Slated by Precincts Saturday

Democrats of Jones County will have the opportunity to attend their precinct conventions at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, July 28, the date of the general primary election, to select delegates to the Jones County Democratic convention, to be held at Anson at the courthouse on Saturday, August 4 at 2:00 p. m.

According to Jack Edwards of Anson, county chairman, the precinct conventions have been set at all election precincts in the county at 2:00 p. m. on election day, and the various conventions will be held at the regular polling places in each precinct with the exception of Stamford, Hamlin and Lueders voting boxes.

East Stamford and West Stamford conventions are to be held at the Stamford city auditorium, although the voters will have separate conventions there.

Hamlin East precinct will have its convention at the city hall in Hamlin, which will also be the place of voting for those who vote in the East Hamlin box.

West Hamlin voters will hold their convention and vote at the high school building. A change in the voting places has been made necessary at Hamlin on account of the removal of the city hall from the west side of town to the east side of town, therefore putting the city hall inside the bounds of the East Hamlin precinct.

Lueders will hold their convention at the Lueders city hall. All other precincts that hold conventions will do so at or in close proximity to the regular polling places.

On the outcome of the coming round of Democratic conventions

THE FARM PROBLEM . . .

Refer to my previous article in your newspaper on this subject. Esatern promoters and big corporations are forcing the middle class and small farmers and ranchers out of business. There were 5,282,000 farms in the United States in 1950, a decrease of over one million farms since World War I. At the present rate at which the medium and small farmer is being forced out of business, by 1958 there will be considerably less than five million farms even though the population is increasing.

The medium and little fellow has not got a chance where the big Eastern interests are moving in with large scale farms and mass production. The farmers, by necessity, are going to the city and becoming factory workers.

The farmer does not have the purchasing power of the individual. Farm parity is at its lowest in 14 years and headed lower and lower. Self interest groups will see to this. The Federal government wants to control the farmers and tell them what to do. The rancher and the farmer are sick and tired of all this fancy talk and conversation. Our politicians are pumping billions of dollars of credit into our financial systems to keep high industrial prices forcing up the prices of automobiles, manufactured goods, machinery to win the Eastern votes while causing a depression and deflation in the ranching and farming areas.

The farmer and rancher are getting poorer and poorer, while the Eastern industrialist, the millionaire who was a millionaire before the present evil income tax law was passed, is getting richer and richer.

The small banks in the 17th Congressional District financing the farmers and ranchers are going to have a tough time, because self interest groups in the East are out to get the farmer. Their manipulations will make them richer while the farmer and rancher will be forced out of business and these self interest groups will take over.

These evil manipulators are advising the small and medium farmer to sell out while the selling is good.

Only the big boys can stick it out during this tough period unless, we, the people all over the land, go to the polls and have a screaming stop to all of this monkey business. It is just plain nonsense when the cost of transportation and distribution from the farm to the consumer exceeds the price the farmer and rancher get for their own products, when the farmer and rancher take all the risk, invest all the money, all the time and everything else.

The politicians are giving the farmer and rancher nothing but conversation.

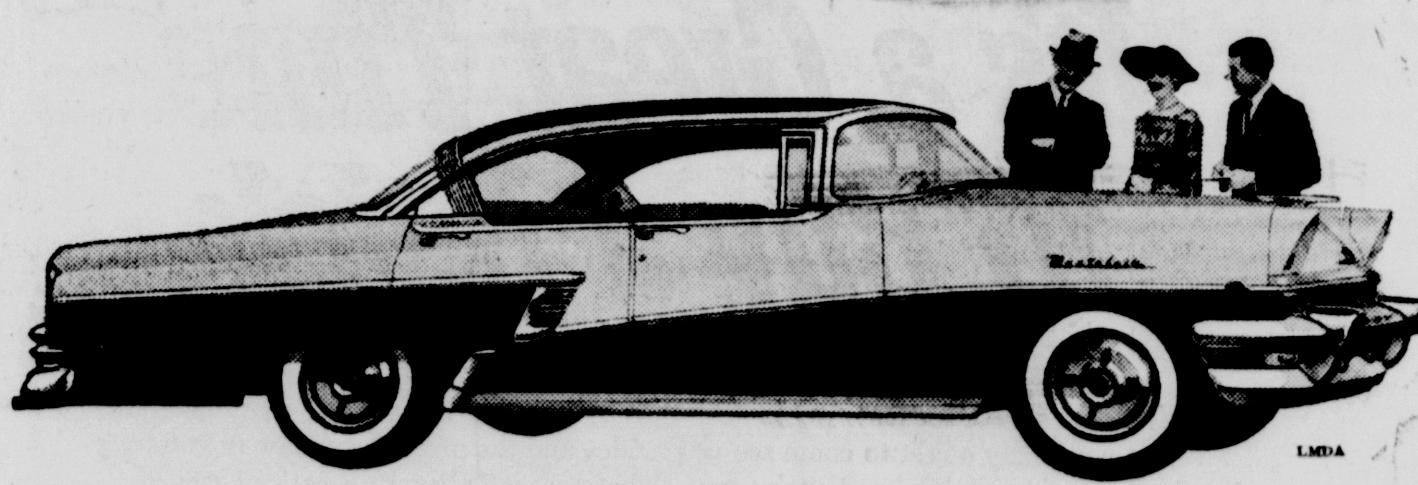

The farmer and rancher are speeding toward a depression in the midst of plenty because of our big give-away program and Eastern manipulators and politicians who do not have the courage to solve the problem in the only manner it can be solved. Abolish the evil income tax law, take the government economists by the ears and have them come up with a program including a soil bank for the big commercial absentee ownership farmer and big corporation farms while the medium and smaller farms will be allowed to produce, all the conditions to match 100 per cent parity. Refer again to my previous article on the farm problem which was published in your local newspaper.

God willing, you can send at least one man to Washington who will speak for you. Go to the polls in the July 28 primary and vote!

Mrs. Egger to Direct Workshop for Girls at Lubbock Conference

Mrs. Darris L. Egger, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be the leader of a special workshop and clinic for girls of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference in connection with the school of missions of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, at St. John's Methodist Church at Lubbock, Monday, July 30, through Friday, August 3.

All Methodist women in the conference, plus qualified girls who are juniors or seniors in high school or older, are eligible to attend.

Each woman attending will select one study course and may secure credit. Each girl attending may select "Paul's Letter to the Local Churches," "Southeast Asia" or "Missions—U. S. A."

Cottage Cheese May Find Many Uses

Cottage cheese is a year-round favorite when it comes to dairy foods. It is a good buy, too, according to Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County home demonstration agent. Top quality protein, calcium, the B vitamins and all the other minerals and vitamins of milk are offered in this easy-to-prepare, versatile and inexpensive food.

An average serving of about three-fourths cup will furnish about half the protein needed daily by adults. Low in calories, but filling, it is an ideal food to include in a reducing diet.

Use cottage cheese to prepare quick salads, budget stretching main dishes and tasty desserts for summer-time meals.

LOSE UGLY FAT IN TEN DAYS OR MONEY BACK

If you are overweight, here is the first really thrilling news to come along in years. A new and convenient way to get rid of extra pounds easier than ever, so you can be as slim and trim as you want. This new product called DIATRON curbs both hunger and appetite. No drugs, no diet, no exercise. Absolutely harmless. When you take DIATRON you still enjoy your meals, still eat the foods you like, but you simply don't have the urge for extra portions and automatically your weight must come down, because, as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Excess weight endangers your heart, kidneys. So no matter what you have tried before, get DIATRON and prove to yourself what it can do. DIATRON is sold on this guarantee: You must lose weight with the first package you use or the package costs you nothing. Just return the bottle to your druggist and get your money back. DIATRON costs $3.00 and is sold with this strict money back guarantee by Howard City Drug Store, Hamlin. Mail orders filled.

More Than 100 at Cox-Cooley-Jones Reunion at Lubbock

More than 100 relatives were present Sunday for the fourth annual Cox-Cooley-Jones family reunion at McKenzie State Park at Lubbock. Attending were the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cooley and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones, all of whom were born in the same community in Arkansas.

The group enjoyed talking over old times and making pictures. Of course, a sumptuous basket picnic lunch was the center of interest at the noon hour.

All the Cox children except one, all of the Cooley children except two, and all of the Jones children except one were present.

Attendants were present from the following cities: Grand Prairie, Dallas, Fort Worth, Albany, Hawley, Anson, Hamlin, Snyder, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Slaton, Lubbock, Colorado City, Littlefield, Sudan, Olton, Muleshoe; Portales and Hobbs, New Mexico; and Minnami, Arizona.

Friends Class Gives Surprise Party for Teacher Tuesday

Members of the Friends Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church had a surprise party for their teacher, Mrs. A. Spencer, in her home Tuesday of last week. As her birthday was the following day, the members gave her a beautiful caladium plant.

The members served cake and ice cream to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Hargrove, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Grace, Mrs. W. W. Fletcher, Mrs. I. D. Miller, Mrs. Spencer and her mother, Mrs. Beulah Hardy.

Club Women of Three Counties Meet In Area Encampment

Home Demonstration Club women of Jones, Haskell and Fisher Counties held their annual encampment last Thursday and Friday, with 92 attending. The affair was held on the Lueders Baptist Encampment grounds.

Jones County club women were in charge of the recreation; the Haskell County club women were in charge of crafts; and the songs and song sheet were the responsibility of the Fisher County women.

Jones County women won first and second places on the skits that were presented, and Fisher County women won third place.

Jones County Home Demonstration Agent Mary Y. Newberry accompanied the Jones County group. Accompanying the Haskell County group was Wanda Greenhill, Haskell County home demonstration agent, and Georgia Durfee, junior assistant home demonstration agent from Haskell.

Hamlin People Go to Rodgers Reunion at Gorman Sunday

Several Hamlin people were among the attendants at the Rodgers family reunion Sunday at Gorman.

Attendants at the get-together included Mr. and Mrs. Edd Rodgers and Gloria and Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers of Hamlin; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodgers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Rodgers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Rodgers and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Odie Rodgers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Rodgers and children, all of Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rodgers of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Frank Tollison, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny King and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Max Littlefield of Anson; Mr. and Mrs. Odie Moore and Mrs. Viola Rodgers of Gorman; Gene Hillard of Mineral Wells.

Poultry, Beef and Several Fruits on Plentiful Foods List

Supplies of broilers and fryers are making prices which should prove popular with consumers. August supplies are expected to be 20 per cent above a year ago, with average of nearly 29,000,000 birds going to market weekly. Prices are running 20 to 22 per cent below last year.

Too, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced that the turkey crop is at least one-third larger than a year ago, with the heavy breed hens and toms making up most of the excess.

Food shoppers will also find plenty of beef available. Large quantities of all grades are expected for August.

Fresh plums and Bartlett pears are two plentiful fruits listed. The plum market has its peak supply in August, and prices usually break.

Other plentiful listed for August include fresh and processed lemons, peanuts, peanut butter, rice and hens.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests that menus featuring broilers and fryers or even turkeys be used during the coming month because of the supplies and favorable prices of these food products.

Prices of Cattle Hold Up on Crest of Optimistic Stocker-Feeder Buying

Cattle prices were carried along on the crest of a wave of optimistic stocker and feeder buying at Fort Worth Monday, and prices were firm to unevenly higher, declares Ted Goudy, special market reporter for The Herald, in his weekly release. He continues: Slaughter cattle ruled steady, and stocker and feeder cattle and calves were strong to 50 cents or more up.

Fleshy feeder steers and yearlings fat enough for a quick turn in the feed lot, sold at the best prices in a couple of months. Some near 800-pound feeder steers topped at $19, and some heavier feeders weighing 900 to 1,050 pounds sold in the $16.50 to $17.50 range, some steers weighing 1,038 pounds cashed at $17.50 for feeders.

The strong replacement market stemmed from the recent report that there were actually 11 percent fewer cattle on feed in the 11 Corn Belt states than a year ago July 1. Another strong point in the feeders' optimistic plans was the fact that finished heaves have been selling higher recently and are currently bringing the highest prices at Fort Worth since last October.

Some over 500-pound steer calves topped at $19, and good and choice kinds cashed readily at $16 to $19. Stocker cow trade again was dull due to hot, dry weather and declining pasture conditions.

In Monday's trade at Fort Worth good to choice steers and yearlings cashed at $16.50 to $21.50, some 1,300-pound steers at the top figure. Fed heifers sold from $20.50 down. Lower grade butcher cattle sold from $12 to $16. Fat cows drew $9.50 to $12. Fat cows and heifers drew $13.50. Canners and cutters drew $6 to $9.50. Bulls sold mostly $9 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter calves drew $15 to $17, and medium and lower grades $9 to $14. Stocker steer calves of good and choice kind brought $16 to $19, and stocker and feeder steers and yearlings mostly $14 to $17, and choice fleshy feeders $17.50 to $19.

Very few high grade sheep or lambs arrived to test values in the trade at Fort Worth Monday, but prices were fully steady. Some good to choice fat lambs sold from $17 to $19, but strictly choice were quotable to $20. Cull to medium killers sold from $11 to $16. Stocker and feeder lambs were quoted from $12 to $16, with few offered eligible to sell over $15. Slaughter yearlings, when good or choice, drew $15 to $17, and lower grade yearling muttons sold from $10 to $14. Two-year-old muttons sold at $14 down. Old wethers brought $8 to $12.

Slaughter ewes cashed at $4 to $5, and old bucks sold around $4 to $5. Breeding ewes were scarce.

Choice meat hogs topped at $16.50 to $16.75 Monday, and this was 50 to 75 cents higher than the close last week at Fort Worth. Less desirable weights and grades sold from $13 to $16, and packing sows were strong at $12 to $14.

A check-up of railway and truck shipments off the yards at Fort Worth following the special stocker and feeder sales held there recently showed that the cattle and calves got extremely wide distribution.

Western states receiving cattle

from these states included California, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico. Corn Belt states included Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. Other states included Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi.

To indicate the virtually coast-to-coast distribution in this one stocker sale, here are some Eastern states that got cattle that day from Fort Worth: Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina and Pennsylvania.

Those little Texas cattle really roamed!

Market observers at Fort Worth agree that August is shaping up as a month of heavy cattle shipping this year, unless something unprecedented in the way of rainy weather comes.

To avoid undue pressure on prices, market agencies advise careful selection of marketing days to avoid excess bunching of receipts, and spread of the receipts through the week to avoid heavy concentrations on Monday and Tuesday.

The surprising strength in the past two weeks despite heavy rains has been credited to spreading the receipts through the week.

WIDE OPEN SPACES

The cowhand had not been feeling well and the first chance he got he went to town for a thorough physical check-up. After it was over, the doctor said:

"You have a little lung trouble. Could you arrange to sleep out-of-doors?"

"Wa-al," drawled the cowpuncher, "I been sleepin' under the chuck wagon all summer, but I reckon I could kick a couple spokes outa the wheels."

22 from Jones County Shown as Attendants At North Texas State

Jones County was represented by 22 students at North Texas State College in Denton at the school year just ended, the registrar's office reported this week in a release to The Herald.

Cumulative enrollment for the nine-month session was 6,342. These students came from 207 of the state's 254 counties, from 33 other states and from 11 foreign countries.

These figures reflect the trend developed in the past three years at North Texas State of an enrollment increase of from 400 to 600 students each year.

To serve this steadily growing student body, the college will put into use three new buildings in 1956, complete two others in 1957, and begin construction of five more in 1958, President J. C. Matthews has announced.

OPEN LETTER TO ALL THE WOMEN IN THE 17th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

You women are accused of thinking with your emotions. There is nothing wrong in this, because God gave you emotions before He trusted men with intelligence.

You women have been asking why should your sons and husbands, cousins, nephews and friends go off to war and then when one war is finished, others start; and why should all this money be given to foreigners who once hated and killed and disabled your men folk, and to the foreign friends who have been doing a lot of talking but no acting. Your sons, husbands, relatives and friends died in Korea while the rest of the world sat back and took your tax dollars and our politicians fed hundreds of thousands of Chinese Nationalist soldiers taking it easy on Formosa. These Chinese were eager to assist and fight the Red Chinese—but no, our politicians would not have it. Your sons, husbands, relatives and friends died in Korea because our politicians blundered.

Who can explain the pointless sacrifice of any mother's son? How are the politicians explaining all this to a Gold Star Mother or a soldier's wife? W can the politicians say to women whose loved ones were blown to bits on a foreign battlefield fighting for something the whole world should have prevented? How can the politicians explain to you women that we had atomic weapons, aircraft and the means of delivery, but none of this was used while your son, husband and friend might have been saved but died in vain?

And now the administration wants to give billions more to our foreign friends and scatter our military men to the four corners of the earth with no assurance that our modern atomic weapons will be used in our boys' defense. Keep our boys at home, and develop such mighty air power, with atomic and hydrogen bombs and the means of delivery that no nation on earth will dare to humiliate us again as they did in Korea and at the conference tables in the past and present.

We are in a push-button war era. The days of the foot soldier are gone. If a Godless nation threatens our peace, wipe it off the face of the earth with our atomic weapons and air power! We need not sacrifice our boys' lives on foreign soil.

If our politicians and military personnel tell us this can't be done, it is high time each and everyone of us find out what has been going on all these years since we have given billions of our hard earned money for the defense of our country to make it the most powerful nation on earth.

If there is to be another war, and the foot soldier is necessary, I suggest we put all the politicians in the front lines, and they can go in with the first wave.

Fisher County Placed In Grain Program

Fisher County has been designated for assistance under the emergency feed grain program of the federal government, according to Walter T. McKay, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, in a release to John D. Wolf Jr., acting county supervisor.

Farmers Home Administration county committees may now take applications from farmers and ranchers through August 31, 1956, to provide feed for basic livestock herds through September 30.

POOLS AND CREEKS ONLY—Most of the water remaining in Garza-Little Elm reservoir, which at the start of the year covered several thousand acres, now can be found only in small pools and in the channel leading it on Lake Dallas. A large lake is located to the left of the channel above, but high land has cut off its exit through the channel and out of the gates into the Dallas water system.

Dave Reves Makes Statement in Bid for Reelection as Sheriff

Dave Reves, candidate for reelection to the office of sheriff of Jones County, makes the following statement:

In expressing my thanks for your past, present and future support, I submit the following statement:

It has been a great pleasure to serve as your sheriff the past three years six months plus some days, and I have enjoyed being of service to you. Everything has not been perfect, but life is not perfect. I have worked very hard to render you good service from the sheriff's office of Jones County.

There are some, a small minority, who organize and coordinate their efforts to evade peace officers to the best of their abilities. Because of these people, peace officers need as nearly perfect coordination as is possible. Your sheriff's office has had fine coordination with city and county officers of Jones County; also the officers of other cities and counties as well as state and federal officers. We have strived to render other officers efficient service, and in return we have received very good service from them.

I am a graduate of Stamford High School and Hardin-Simmons University, where I played football, basketball and competed in track and field events. I am a member and steward of the Methodist Church. I am also a member of the American Legion and Lions Club. My family consists of my wife, the former Estelle Winkles of Lueders; a son, David Jr., nine; two daughters, Susan, seven, and Sharon, four. I think I have as fine a family as anyone. I am 42 years of age and am a veteran of World War II.

Your sheriff's office has filed a number of cases since January 1, 1953, and our record of arrests and apprehensions is as good as any peace officer's or ganization. Approximately 99 per cent of the cases filed and tried have resulted in conviction. Records bear this out.

I have as much time as anyone, 24 hours per day, seven days per week. However, the duties of the sheriff's office have been heavy, and to me duty comes first. Consequently, I have not made an extensive political campaign.

My pledge is honest, impartial, efficient and consistent service to all.

Talk on Metallic Rules Given Lions By Austin Siburt

Austin Siburt, minister of the Hamlin Church of Christ, spoke on "The Three Metallic Rules" as the program feature at the regular Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

He declared the iron rule of "might makes right" had been exemplified by great warriors of the past and recent years; the silver rule of negative action that prohibited and banned evil action but offered little encouragement for good deeds, as practiced by Confucius; and the golden rule that set out principles of doing good to others along with abstaining from evil as exemplified by Christianity. He also used the parable of the Good Samaritan as demonstrating all three tenets.

The Lions Club was advised by Jess Parrish, manager of the swimming pool at the City Park, that a life saving training school is being planned for August by two Marine Corps sergeants out of Abilene. The men have offered their expert services without charge if their expenses are paid by interesting persons and organizations.

President Edgar Duncan announced that a light bulb sale would be conducted Saturday in Hamlin by members of the Boys Club, which is being sponsored by the Lions Club. "Buy a bag of light bulbs from the boys, and both the boys and Lions will share in the proceeds," Duncan urged.

NEW CREAMED CHICKEN.

Turn that creamed chicken into an especially delicious dish by cooking sliced mushrooms and thin strips of green pepper in the butter you are using for the sauce; then add flour and milk or light cream and proceed as usual.

Pied Piper Grid Schedule Opens With Roby Game

Hamlin High School's Pied Piper football crew will officially open their 1956 grid season with a tilt against the Roby High School Lions at Roby, it was revealed this week as the new football schedule was released.

Five home games and five contests away from home are on the bill of fare this season. Placed in a new arrangement of teams in the area, there are only three conference melees on the schedule. In the new loop are Hamlin, Seymour, Stamford and Anson.

The complete schedule follows: September 7—Roby at Roby. September 13—Spur at Spur. September 21—Merkel at Hamlin.

September 28—Rotan at Hamlin.

October 5—Winters at Hamlin.

October 12—Colorado City at Hamlin.

October 19—Albany at Albany.

October 26—Seymour at Seymour.

November 2—Stamford at Hamlin.

November 9—Anson at Anson.

Our Rights

Americans who have stood for individual liberties and states' rights have been the victims of every cowardly device of human speech. Ridicule, distortion, lying, vile epithets, venomous whisperings, false rumor-mongering, base slander, libel, character assassination—all are weapons of the human tongue wielded with the intent of destroying any and all Americans who have dared to warn their fellow countrymen of the state of our political affairs.

I stand before you ready to serve the people of the 17th Congressional District and the State of Texas and bring the government back home to the states where it belongs.

God willing, we will provide for this representation at the polls on July 28th.

Moyne L. KELLY

Candidate for Reelection

State
Representative

and Dickens Counties)

To the Citizens of the 85th District:

GREETINGS FROM YOUR
STATE REPRESENTATIVE!

It has been a great experience to represent you good people in the Legislature of Texas. I can assure you that it is a most sincere and serious job. The matter of passing laws or instituting legislation takes on many forms, if all of the people are represented. Laws are passed to protect, to improve, to establish, to prevent, to remove, to alleviate, to inaugurate, to restrain, and to help the greatest number of people in the Big State of Texas. If a legislator keeps these things in mind during his deliberations, he cannot be far from right when action is taken on legislative matters.

PAST:

1. During these two years that I have served as your representative, I have done my best to live, act, and work, so as to be worthy of your friendship, loyalty and confidence.

2. Thanks again and again, for the opportunity to serve you in the Texas Legislature, and for your many kindnesses and courtesies.

PRESENT:

1. Although I do not have an opponent this time, I am asking strongly for your votes on July 28, 1956. It will be worth much to me to have a full expression of your confidence.

2. Because I have not seen each of you personally, and solicited your vote, does not mean that I have slighted you or that my enthusiasm for this work has slackened the least bit.

3. Thanks for your vote on July 28, 1956.

FUTURE:

1. I am very much interested in what all of us in the 85th District can do to help ourselves, through legislation, and at the same time not hurt anybody outside of our district.

2. Let us take inventory of our RESOURCES, POSSIBILITIES and DREAMS during the next five months and work together to set up in our district a program of improvement and development that might be implemented, in any way, by legislative action.

City and Town Taxes Increasing Faster Than Other Costs, Roger Babson Says

Babson

City and town taxes are discussed in this week's release to The Herald by Roger W. Babson, internationally known economist and analyst, who is a regular contributor to columns of Your Home Town Paper. He writes:

I am concerned much about the continued uptrend in municipal and town taxes. In 1955 the "tax bite" of cities in the United States will amount to over $65 per person, compared with $61 in 1953 and $56 in 1952. I am especially disappointed with the very little attention which the conference on education, recently held at Washington, D. C., gave to this important subject.

A study of 481 U. S. cities with populations of 25,000 or more shows that local taxes accounted for about one-half of total municipal revenues from all sources, including federal and state grants for education, road building and other purposes. The rapid rate at which these taxes have been increasing in recent years points up the fact that municipal debts are also growing larger.

In fact, city debt increased seven per cent during 1955 to a record level of $12,200,000,000 for cities of over 25,000 population. As a result, the average debt per capita in these cities is $196. In New York City the per capita debt was over $600 per person and is still rising. I predict a further boost in city and town taxes and debts in 1956.

Obviously, city debts are rising faster than city tax rates, even though the latter are becoming more and more burdensome, especially to owners of real estate. Why should city debt be rising so fast at this point in our history when general business is at record high levels? Of course, costs of city services are up all along the line, but that is only part of the story. Raw material and labor costs also adversely affect manufacturers of many products, but the prices of those products have not soared as much as city taxes.

In some cases, the city tax load has been permitted to become burdensome because of poor municipal management or downright mismanagement. There are many localities where money goes down the drain because accounting, purchasing and other procedures need tightening, but even these loose policies do not fully explain our plight.

Of course, our cities and towns are over-spending. Municipal county and state governments all over the country are living well beyond their means. In many cases, they are forced to do so because of heavy popular demand for luxuries in the form of ornate school buildings, careless road planning with little thought of future needs, expensive recreational services and equipment.

When I was a boy, cities were expected to provide fire and police protection, water and sewage systems and also good schools. Now the people are demanding many additional services, often of no real value and all of them very costly. I believe in parking lots for their cars; but not buildings, mislabeled "schools" for mothers to park their children. It is ironical that cities along the sea coast in New England have built municipal swimming pools for children and adults! We provide busses to take the children to school and then build gymnasiums to exercise them when they arrive. I walked four miles each day for 10 years to get an education, and am still alive!

We are now at peace, even though the world is troubled. We are prospering as no other people have prospered before. But I believe that bad times will come again. We shall again be called upon to make sacrifices to preserve our political and economic freedom, as these are threatened by war or depression. These sacrifices will be easier to make, and our efforts will be more effective if we now pay closer attention to tax and debt policies and to efficient government.

The menace to our economy and to our way of life from political extravagance at all levels is a very real one. We must learn again that thrift is the main-

The WINNING SIDE

The kids in the grandstand are yelling, "Strike him out!" and our young pitcher is going to do exactly that. This is his day for a shut-out game ... his day to win.

He's feeling pretty good about it, and who's to blame him? But what if things had gone the other way? What if some other boy had been warming up in the bullpen, about to have taken his place? But he is a well-balanced youngster, and he would have taken that in stride, too.

He has learned about being a good sport about regard for his fellow men, and about many other equally important things in Church. For, like thousands of other American youngsters, the Church already plays an important part in his life. That is one reason why his parents have faith in the fact that he will grow up to be a pretty fine man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy, nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DAN KRALIS

CANDIDATE FOR

UNITED STATES CONGRESS

UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVE

17TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

THIS MAN KRALIS . . . His Campaign Fund

Dan was born in an average family when the dead of World War I were being listed in the newspapers throughout the country. His father was a fireman on the railroad. His mother came from a farm family.

Young Dan took great enthusiasm in his history studies. At the age of 11 he debated the cause of the South. At 15 was called "Johnny Reb" and more often "Old Hickory." History and research revealed to him that slavery was not the instrumental cause of the Civil War, but rather an afterthought promulgated by Northern radicals. Greedy Northern industrialists were out to crush the stable agricultural economy of the South by hook or crook.

In fact, the slaves in the South were being rapidly freed by the Southerners themselves and many Negro families insisted on staying with the plantation owners and did not want their so-called "freedom." Given time, all the Negro population in the South would have been freed by 1870. Robert E. Lee freed his slaves before the Civil War.

Few people know that the Emancipation Proclamation applied only to freeing the slaves in those states in the Confederacy. The slaves legally were still slaves in the slave states that fought on the Union side.

At the age of 21 young Dan moved to Alabama, in the deep South, and pursued his studies of the Southern cause, the reconstruction period. He relived every terrible moment, visiting the ruins, and recognizing the pathetic conditions even 77 years after the ending of the Civil War.

Young Dan stood before a federal bureaucratic meeting in Birmingham and told those in charge that, instead of spending the taxpayers' money in useless conversation, they had better go about the job they were hired to do and do it right. He walked out of the meeting, which broke up soon thereafter following his suggestions.

Dan is the type of fellow who, at the age of 16, rang the school bell 20 minutes early to allow 100 cold and shivering children to go inside of a warm building. He incurred the wrath of the principal but also his everlasting admiration.

He was captain of the basketball team, baseball team and track team. He was elected president of his senior class by acclamation. He played in the band and acted in the school plays.

He worked his way through high school and college. He worked as a ditch digger, truck driver, steel mill worker and farm hand.

He was the type of fellow who went on a college geological field trip with no money to pay for his food. When the professor offered to pay for the meals, Dan said he was just sick and didn't feel like eating. Dan went on the field trip for two days without food. In fact, Dan and his brother, Frank, lived for two weeks while attending college on 50 cents worth of rice and onions. He had one short suit and two pairs of trousers.

Dan is not ashamed of his background. He loves America and he loves the South.

Dan is a loyal Texan and, needless to say, an ardent student of Texas history. He points to other present Texas United States representatives, including Sam Rayburn; not to mention great great Texans like Sam Houston, Bowie and Crockett and many others who are all adopted Texans like himself.

Dan Kralis is so conscientious about the platform he is running on that he decided to refuse all campaign donations—although he needs campaign funds badly.

He has exhausted his finances to present his viewpoints to the voters. Dan Kralis feels that he represents all the people and not a selected few. He believes in statesmanship and not backroom politics.

This is the type of man you will vote for on July 28—fearless, persistent, reasonable, open-minded, a man's man, a true representative of the people, self made, and a loyal American and true Texan. Once again we are at the cross-roads in history and the destiny of man.

The issues are identical with those preceding the Revolutionary War, the Civil War and a greater issue is also before us. The issue involving the very existence of the American way of life now threatened by global regimentation fostered by "one worlders" and "intellectual do-gooders" who would have us reduce our individuality to a biological social pattern found in the Communist system so efficiently practiced by the higher insects, ants, bees, etc., and not so efficiently practiced by the Russians. Men like Dan Kralis stand out as pillars of hope to stay the onslaught of this mad rush toward insane oblivion.

Children Deserve Consideration by Adult Motorists

"Children don't think, cars don't think, so you must think!"

Drivers today received that reminder of their responsibility for the safety of children in traffic from E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., as he spoke of the current child pedestrian safety program being sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"Drive as if every child you meet is your own little boy or girl," McFadden said. "If you treat all children as you would other motorists to treat your children, you're not likely to run down a youngster who heedlessly darts into your path."

"This solicitous attitude is necessary," he said, "because children can't be expected to use adult judgment in traffic. On this score, he roundly condemned the driver who fails to give youngsters a break in traffic and who insists on right-of-way and other legal prerogatives."

"It's the nature of youth to be impetuous and sometimes heedless," he said. "It's the duty of adults to protect children from the results of their own heedlessness, even if their actions are wrong."

McFadden listed the following rules for drivers to follow in order to do their part in cooperating where children are concerned:

1. Always expect the unexpected where children are concerned.
2. Give young bike riders every break.
3. Drive with extreme caution near schools and playgrounds and any place where children may be expected to gather.
4. Be especially alert in school areas for signs, signals, traffic police, school patrols and for children themselves.

Forms for Returns On New Floor Stocks Tax Available Now

Business firms subject to the new floor stocks tax on products included in the recently passed highway act may now obtain copies of Form 2265 from the Internal Revenue office at Abilene, Administrative Officer A. E. Fogle Jr., has announced. Returns, with payments, are due by October 15.

Increased taxes are levied on floor stocks of the following items on hand as of last July 1: Gasoline; tires of the type used on highway vehicles; truck, bus and trailer chassis and bodies, and tractors. A new tax was imposed on tread rubber of three cents a pound.

EASY STUFF FOR HIM.

Army troops were being trained for a secret mission. They were given an extremely tough obstacle course—swimming across a raging river, running up a vertical cliff, scrambling through barbed wire entanglements and climbing a peak with full equipment.

As they came to the end of their training period, a colonel barked to an Ozark Mountain boy in the company:

"How do you like it, soldier?"
"Shucks, suh, it ain't nothin'." drawled the soldier. "Where I come from we have to go through worse country than this to get to the barn!"

Congressman Omar Burleson Discusses Topics Vital to National Administration

Various topics are discussed in this week's release from Congressman Omar Burleson in his column, "Washington: As It Looks from Here." He writes:

An event of no small proportions occurred in the capital city the other day. It made front page news, but not particularly the main headlines. The event was the dedication of the new AFL-CIO building, located just across the park from the White house. President Eisenhower was present to deliver the main dedication speech, and referred to his presence as a "neighborly call from my place across the square."

I have driven by this very fine and impressive $4,000,000 building of seven to eight stories, which dazzles with its symbolic display of wealth and power. It is said that privately some of the labor leaders are half embarrassed and self-conscious about the swank and conspicuous luxury of their official mansion. On the other hand, many industrial leaders congratulate labor on its outward sign of material success, and regard it as an illustration of the American way of doing things.

Probably no greater pressure has been applied by the president and his top administration officials than was exercised on the foreign aid bill. In addition to an all-out effort of the administration to have almost twice the amount of money appropriated at this time than was provided last year, the leadership of both the Republicans and Democrats in the Congress also exerted every effort for the authorization of $4,900,000,000 for foreign aid.

The foreign affairs committee cut $1,109,000,000 from the bill, and under the able leadership of Congressman James P. Richards of South Carolina, chairman of the committee, the House of Representatives overrode the request of the president and the top leadership in both sides of the aisle to retain the reduced figure.

Even after the reduction of funds, I could not support the bill for three main reasons: (1) The president has recommended a reappraisal of our entire foreign policy as related to foreign aid; (2) figures show that countries in Europe have recovered economically sufficient to defend themselves, but are not dedicating their resources to their own defenses accordingly; and (3) there remains almost $7,000,000,000 unexpended in the foreign aid "pipeline."

If a reappraisal of our foreign aid is to be undertaken, it seems to me this huge unexpended sum would be sufficient to carry through any mutual security program until conclusions were reached on such a reappraisal.

Other reasons existed to oppose this legislation, but these seem sufficient.

Possibilities for reducing government spending make a much better subject than how our money is being spent.

Hearings are now in progress before the Senate government operations committee on a bill to improve government budgeting and accounting procedures.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has endorsed the bill, which provides that the budget be based on an annual accrued expenditure basis. The bill should greatly

Three Bases for Worthwhile Life Given at Rotary

"Three bases for a worthwhile life are suggested for man," declared Rev. Henry C. Adair, pastor of Faith Methodist Church in Hamlin, when he spoke at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house.

Effort for self preservation, effort to establish a sense of security and for loved ones, and an innate desire to relate himself to God are the three marks of a man showing his worth, Adair declared. He went on to point out that man in himself is worth little chemically—about $1.96.

Adair gave a brief resume of his early life in which he had been a professional soldier, a professional ball player and an alcoholic before entering the ministry.

Guests at the Wednesday noon luncheon, in addition to the day's speaker, were Fred Wimberly and Garland Franks of Sweetwater; T. O. Pearson of Abilene; and Jay Tow of Amarillo.

Olen Butlers Visit First Time in 3 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Butler and their four children of Redwood, California, visited in the home of his mother, Mrs. Andy Gardner, and his grandmother, Mrs. Della Butler, and other relatives and friends in the Hamlin community last week. This was their first trip back since moving to California over three years ago.

People of the Sunset Baptist Church had the privilege of hearing Butler preach Wednesday evening.

strengthen congressional control over the government's financial affairs.

It would save money if properly administered, and equally important, the Congress could more nearly exercise its responsibility.

As pointed out in this column before, the Congress has lost almost one-third of the control over government spending.

When space permits, figures will be given to support this conclusion.

Year's Rain Total Less Than Half of Normal Average

Rainfall in the Hamlin area for the year is less than half the normal average for this time of year, it was revealed Wednesday when tabulations for the period through July 24 were tabulated by The Herald.

Total precipitation for the year was 5.83 inches. This compared with a normal rainfall of about 13 1/2 inches for the same period, according to Bill Rountree, government rain gauger, who maintains gauges at the city pump station.

During June only .03 of an inch of rain was registered, that being on June 25.

Several showers have come during July, the fall being tabulated as follows: July 4, .45 inch; July 7, .44; July 9, .05; July 10, .05; July 20, 1.00; July 23, .13; and July 24, .02.

Supplies for Election Distributed to Boxes

Supplies and boxes for the primary election to be held Saturday from 8:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m., were distributed to the various precincts last week-end by Jack Edwards of Anson, county Democratic chairman.

Good turn-outs of voters were anticipated all over the county, despite the fact that not too much interest in the various races has been reflected by voters, Edwards said.

SOLDIER PALS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wright and daughter of Ottowa, Kansas, spent Monday and Tuesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Howard Jr. and family. Wright was in the same company in Germany in 1945 with Howard. The buddies had not seen each other since their discharge in 1945.

Mrs. Wilburn Fields and son, John Henry, of Lancaster, California, are spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Howard Sr. Mrs. Fields is a daughter of the Howards.

It was Montaigne who remarked that a "man has need of tough ears to hear himself freely judged." Regardless of how careful and conscientious a man may be, someone is almost always sure to misunderstand his actions and attitudes and utterances. When he is liberal with his means, someone will almost surely suggest that he is overly extravagant. If he is conscientiously careful with his money, someone will almost surely say that he is miserly. If a person's views are more liberal than ours, we may brand him as being "too liberal." If his views are more conservative than ours, we may assume that he is "too conservative."

When a person favors our position, we may refer to him as fair minded. When he opposes our position, we probably pronounce him prejudiced. And in all honesty, must we not admit the possibility of our condemning in an enemy what we condone in a friend? And the chances are that we ourselves do many things that we resent in And if a person does nothing, people will find fault with And if a person does nothing, people will find fault with what he doesn't do; if he does something, they will find fault with what he does do. And while part of the people may applaud what we do part of the time, it is more than probable that part of the people will surely disapprove what we do at any time. When, therefore, we are attempting to please other people (or when others are attempting to please us), we must remember that no mortal man ever lived (and that includes all of us) who has ever pleased anyone all the time—not even himself.

No matter what course a person pursues, someone will wonder why he didn't do something different. So about the best we can do is to conduct ourselves conscientiously according to our best knowledge and sincere convictions and keep our minds always honestly open to the possibility of our own errors—and hope that other men will forgive us our mistakes as we forgive theirs. And remember always that a man has need of "tough ears" to hear himself freely judged by others.

I have conducted this campaign in the only manner I know—forthright, honest and above board.

You are well acquainted with my viewpoints. I stand ready to serve you in Washington. Your vote is a vote for states' rights, abolishment of the income tax law, a fair deal for the farmer and the working man, for home government, individual liberties, a strong foreign policy, and true and honest representation of the average man and woman, who pay most of the government's bills. God bless each and every one of you.

Most efficiency experts become so "efficiency minded" that they eat, sleep, dream and think of nothing else.

At the funeral of a former president of a large corporation, six of the oldest and most trusted employees were serving as pallbearers. ## Cash Income for State Farms Down First Part of Year

Texas farm cash income dropped 13 per cent during the first five months of this year compared with last year, the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas said this week in a release to The Herald.

The total was $483,638,000 compared with $55,981,000.

Most of the cutback has been due to smaller marketings. Prices averaged three per cent lower than in 1955, the study said.

Income was up in seven of the 17 commodities by these percentage points: Peanuts 37, corn 19, poultry 16, grain sorghums 15, milk and milk products 12, fruit and vegetables seven, sheep and lambs seven.

Cash income was lower from hogs, three per cent; wool six, calves 13, eggs 14, cattle 21, cotton 23, mohair 39, oats 44, wheat 70, and flaxseed 83.

The two major Texas products, cattle and cotton, brought more than $60,000,000 less total cash during January-May than last year.

Farm Bureau Helps With Gas Tax Forms

Farmers of the county will be assisted in filling out claims for federal gas refunds at the Farm Bureau office in Anson, it has been announced by Harris Wright, service agent for the bureau.

The refund is to be made on the federal excise tax on gasoline which was used for farming purposes.

Claims for the present tax rate of two cents a gallon must be filed with the U. S. treasury district Director of Internal Revenue on the proper form.

So . . . whose fault is it when this unfortunate condition prevails?

Well, you might say it's everybody's.

SELLERS are to blame . . . who don't keep up with what's new in their lines . . . and who want to keep store just like they did before highways and automobiles rescued buyers from having to take whatever goods it pleased their home storekeepers to carry in stock.

BUYERS are to blame . . . who don't keep neighborhood sellers informed about their needs and wants by the simple process of shopping the home stores regularly . . . and whose wide-ranging buying habits cut down the financial ability of local sellers to keep better assortments of goods.

Many of us fall into both of these categories . . . and don't let our right hands know where our left hands have been shopping.

Shall we, then, EACH look inwardly . . . whether we are Buyer or Seller only . . . or a Buyer-Seller Blend . . . and consider what WE can do to better OURSELVES by enriching our home area's life blood . . . it's trade volume?

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID in recent weeks about cooperation and team work. We heard the other day about some realing in of efforts.

Every morning for years, at out 11:30, the telephone operator in a small Midwestern town received a call from a man asking the exact time.

One day an operator summoned a nerve enough to ask him why a regularity.

"I'm foreman of the Smithson it & Bolt Works," he explained. Every day I have to blow the whistle at noon, so I call you to the exact time."

The operator giggled. "That's really funny," she said. "All this we've been setting our clock your whistle!"

MORE AMERICANS died on the highways in 1955 than on the battlefield during the entire Korean war!

The National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," just off the press, shows there were 38,300 traffic deaths in the United States in 1955. Official Defense Department records list the battle deaths in the Korean war at 33,629.

"We don't for a moment want imply that the highway is as arduous as the battlefield," said H. Dearborn, president of the council. "But the fact is at the loss to the nation from the 1955 traffic toll is greater in terms of human life than the loss sustained in the Korean war. Therefore, it's certainly worth getting excited about."

Approximately 1,350,000 Americans were injured in motor vehicle accidents during the year, the council said.

TWO COLORED WIMMEN of Hamlin were comparing notes about their husbands the other day.

"Pearl," said one, "who do you reckon's the laziest—your husband mine?"

"I'm not guessin'," was the reply. "There are had enough with startin' no contests!"

People of Area Vote Against Parking Meters in Test Vote

Final Decision To Be Made by Hamlin Voters

In deference to an expression at the polls by the citizens of the Hamlin trade territory, parking meters will remain absent from Hamlin streets until the first of the year.

In an unusual election, in which people of entire trade territory were asked to participate, 402 votes were cast against returning the meters to service and 60 votes for them. Balloting was conducted Saturday at the Hamlin High School building.

The City Council recently had the meters taken out after a group of merchants petitioned the group to remove them for a trial period. The merchants contended that the meters were hurting trade.

The meters were removed for a six-week trial period at that time. Following the Saturday election, they will remain out of service until January 1.

Mayor O. D. Roland points out that the Saturday vote was merely a referendum vote by the people of the territory. Final decision on the meters will be left up to qualified voters of the City of Hamlin. They will vote in an official vote the latter part of December to ascertain whether or not the meters will be placed back in service.

Jones County Fared Pretty Well in Population Shift During Past 15 Years

Jones County has fared pretty well population-wise during the last 15 years.

While many other counties lost population sharply from 1940 to 1955, Jones County was fairly stable. There was an estimated loss of only 1,000. Jones County's largest towns are Stamford, Hamlin and Anson.

The 1940 population was 23,378. 1950 showed 22,147, and the 1955 population was estimated at 22,398.

These and other facts were brought out in a survey conducted

Hamlin Schools Will Open September 4

Hamlin Schools will begin the 1956-57 school term's work on Tuesday, September 4 (following Labor Day), it was announced this week by C. F. Cook, superintendent of schools.

Class work and registration of primary, elementary and junior high school students will begin with that day. In high school a schedule of pre-registration and assignment of work will be arranged for the week-end preceding the official starting date, Cook said. This schedule will be announced later.

EVANGELIST for an eight-day revival meeting at the Calvary Baptist Church beginning Sunday will be Rev. W. A. Corley (above), pastor of Jackson Street Baptist Church in Jacksonville. Well known in the denomination, Rev. Corley is a forceful speaker, declares the Calvary pastor, Rev. W. C. Rea.

Frank Waggoner Is Shows Improvement

Frank Waggoner, long time Hamlin druggist, is reported doing much better as The Herald prepared to go to press Wednesday morning, following a heart attack last Wednesday at the store.

Waggoner was in serious condition for several days, being in a coma part of the time.

Living Costs Show Rise During May To All-Time Peak

Living costs rose sharply in May, sending the government's index to a level equalling the all-time peak of October, 1953.

The Department of Labor's Bureau of Statistics said the index rose four-tenths of one per cent to 115.4 per cent of the 1947-49 base.

This is 1.1 per cent above May last year and is the same that was reached in October, 1953.

Food prices in May registered their greatest increase for any month since June, 1953, rising 1.3 per cent.

However, food still is slightly below last year's level and nearly five per cent lower than the August, 1952, peak for food alone.

Department of Labor officials who called the May living cost jump "unexpectedly large," said food prices probably will go higher during the summer months until fall harvests come. They hinted the living cost index may achieve a new record level when June data is available next month.

The living cost index has been increasing steadily since last February. Food prices, while lower than last year, have been firming up while costs of other consumer goods and services have been on a gradual rise.

92.3 Per Cent of Texas Farmers Favor Wheat Plan

Farmers of the United States have voted for the fourth consecutive year to allow Uncle Sam to restrict the production and sale of wheat.

They approved in a 36-state referendum Friday a Department of Agriculture proposal designed to restrict next year's crop so it will not add to a record-breaking surplus overhanging markets and crowding the nation's storehouses.

Texas approved by 92.3 per cent. Complete returns in 182 Texas wheat counties showed 9,990 for the quotas, 724 against and 136 challenged votes. This compares with 86.6 in favor of quotas on the 1956 crop when 13,041 favorable votes were cast last year.

Virtually complete unofficial national returns gave 228,839 votes for federal marketing quotas and 32,767 against.

This was a favorable majority of 87.5 per cent, far in excess of the necessary two-thirds. In a similar referendum a year ago producers voted 77.3 per cent in favor of quotas on 1956's crop.

In approving controls, farmers assured themselves of a national average price support of $2 per bushel on next year's production, the same as this year. Under farm law, the price support would have dropped to around $1.21 per bushel had the quotas been rejected.

Similar quotas are expected to be proposed for next year's crops of cotton, rice, peanuts and major types of tobacco as well as wheat. Surpluses exist in all these crops.

The 1957 wheat program, like that for the past three crops, is designed to limit plantings to 55,000,000 acres in contrast to the 80,000,000 planted in the immediate post-war years.

Rev. W. A. Corley of Jacksonville to Lead In Calvary Revival

Scheduled to do the preaching in an eight-day revival beginning Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church in Hamlin is Rev. W. A. Corley, pastor of the Jackson Street Baptist Church in Jacksonville.

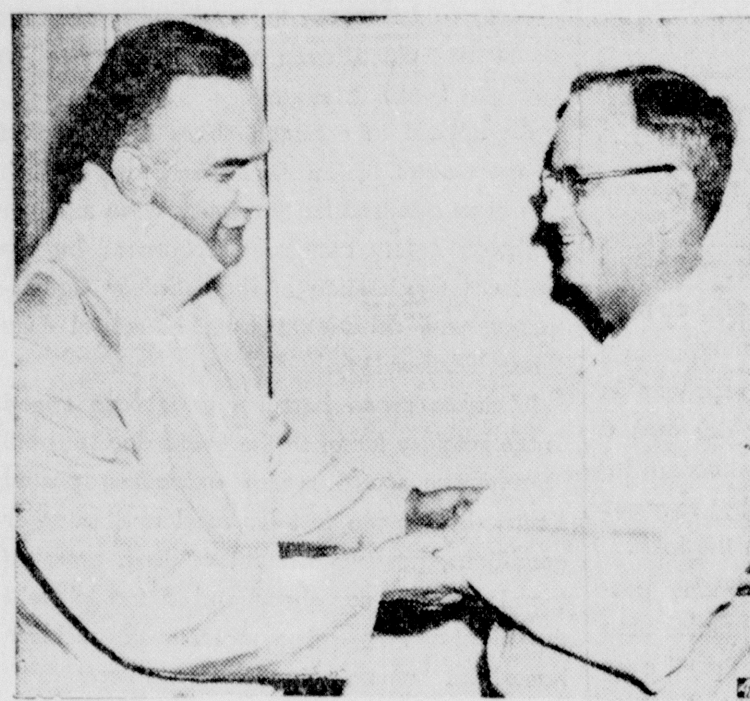

The meeting will continue through Sunday, August 5, declares the pastor, Rev. W. C. Rea.

Rev. Corley, an evangelist of note in the denomination, was in a revival meeting at the Hamlin church last year.

James (Pokey) Woods will lead the singing during the series of services.

Services are slated at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and 8:00 o'clock in the evening, with prayer services planned for 7:30 each evening.

Pastor Rea and his congregation invite the public to attend the revival services.

BI-PARTISAN SYMPATHY—Representative John Saylor (Republican of Pennsylvania) (left) and Representative John Dowdy, Democrat of Texas, sympathize with each other as they showed up at the capitol in Washington wearing bandages. They were hurt in separate auto accidents. Saylor suffered a neck injury when his car was hit from behind by another, and Dowdy fractured his left arm when his car went out of control and struck a tree.

Voss Suicide Shocks City

People of Hamlin community were shocked and appalled when news spread Saturday morning that Theodore Roosevelt Voss, parts man at Murrell Chevrolet Company and a deacon at the First Baptist Church, had taken his life by shooting himself.

No motive for the tragedy, which occurred at the family residence at 112 Northwest Second Street, at 9:45 a. m., could be ascertained by The Herald.

Voss and his wife and daughter moved to Hamlin about 18 months ago from Wink when Voss became associated with the motor concern.

Funeral services were conducted

Jones County Leads District in Bond Sales

Jones County's 1956 United States savings bonds quota is already 83.9 per cent subscribed, it was revealed this week in tabulations of sales by A. C. Humphrey of Stamford, county sales chairman.

Purchases through June totaled $40,047, and the year's quota is $590,000. The Jones County sales record led all other counties in the District 16 report.

AIRMAN VISITS HOME.

Master Sergeant Howard Crow of Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts arrived Tuesday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crow, and other relatives.

Governor's Race Holds Spotlight In State Voting

Although not displaying the usual zeal and enthusiasm for voting in the general primary election on the fourth Saturday in July, Hamlin area voters were expected to turn out in almost full strength at the polls Saturday.

On the state level, the governor's was holding top interest. Although Pappy W. Lee O'Daniel and Ralph Yarborough were not stirring up their usual interest with their shouts of "corruption in Austin," they still have kept the race humming. Price Daniel has been picked as the favorite in the race in most circles.

Race for Congress again this year has engendered considerable interest. Dan Kralis of Abilene is bidding for the seat held by Omar Burleson of Anson.

Only one county race is contested, that being the sheriff's race with three candidates—Dave Reeves, incumbent, and O. Doyle Woody and E. M. Isbell.

In Precinct 3, Lem Ruark is seeking reelection and is opposed by Eldridge Nix.

Voting at Hamlin will be at different locations than in previous years.

Voters in the East Hamlin box, supervised by A. B. Carlton, will ballot at the city hall, which recently was moved from the west precinct to the east precinct.

Voters of the West Hamlin box will cast their votes at the high school building. J. E. Patterson is election judge.

The complete election ballot is being printed on page three of today's Herald.

Light Bulbs to Be Sold By Boys Saturday

Members of the Hamlin Boys' Club will conduct an electric light bulb sale Saturday in Hamlin, under sponsorship of the Hamlin Lions Club, it was announced this week by Lions Club President Edgar Duncan.

A house-to-house canvass of the city will be made by the boys, and they and the Lions will share in the proceeds, it is announced.

Naming of Democratic Delegates to County Slated by Precincts Saturday

Democrats of Jones County will have the opportunity to attend their precinct conventions at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, July 28, the date of the general primary election, to select delegates to the Jones County Democratic convention, to be held at Anson at the courthouse on Saturday, August 4 at 2:00 p. m.

According to Jack Edwards of Anson, county chairman, the precinct conventions have been set at all election precincts in the county at 2:00 p. m. on election day, and the various conventions will be held at the regular polling places in each precinct with the exception of Stamford, Hamlin and Lueders voting boxes.

East Stamford and West Stamford conventions are to be held at the Stamford city auditorium, although the voters will have separate conventions there.

Hamlin East precinct will have its convention at the city hall in Hamlin, which will also be the place of voting for those who vote in the East Hamlin box.

West Hamlin voters will hold their convention and vote at the high school building. A change in the voting places has been made necessary at Hamlin on account of the removal of the city hall from the west side of town to the east side of town, therefore putting the city hall inside the bounds of the East Hamlin precinct.

Lueders will hold their convention at the Lueders city hall. All other precincts that hold conventions will do so at or in close proximity to the regular polling places.

On the outcome of the coming round of Democratic conventions

RECALLING Other Years

★ Being news items taken from old files of Your Home - Town Newspaper, The Herald.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

News notes of interest in the Hamlin community 20 years ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 24, 1936:

"Good work is being done in the city-wide clean-up campaign that has been underway for several days in Hamlin, according to Ira Clements, chairman of the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Cash premiums are being given to the premises showing the most improvement during the clean-up drive.

R. W. (Bob) Smith announces the opening of his new Conoco Service Station on North Central Avenue.

Mrs. F. D. Howe announces that a Scotch golf tournament begins at the Hamlin Country Club Sunday morning at 7:00 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huling of Corpus Christi arrived Sunday for a visit in the Hamlin country.

Plenty of political advertisements were carried in The Herald for this week. Probably the two hottest races are for governor, in which candidates are James V. Allred, F. W. Fischer, Tom F. Hunter, P. Pierce Brooks and Roy Sanderford; and the race for Congress, in which the candidates are Clyde L. Garrett, Fred O. Jaye and Thomas L. Blanton.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Among goings-on in the Hamlin community 10 years ago were the following, as recorded in the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 26, 1946:

Work began this week on the construction of a new building to house the vocational agriculture department at Hamlin High School. Being constructed of concrete, steel and stone, the building is located on the southwest corner of the campus of the high school.

Walls are going up on the new Elementary School building in Northwest Hamlin. The $125,000 edifice is being erected by T. E. Shelburne & Sons.

Jessie M. Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Myers, was voted the best all-around cowgirl at the Seury County Rodeo held last week-end at Snyder.

Travis Hash has been named new manager of the greatly enlarged S. & W. Variety Store at Hamlin.

Interest is running high in the primary election slated Saturday. The governor's race holds the top spotlight, with 14 men in the running. Homer P. Rainey and Beauford Jester are indicated in the leading roles.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Among happenings of the Hamlin community five years ago were the following, reproduced in brief from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 27, 1951:

Brad Rowland Jr. left Hamlin early Thursday for Dallas, where he will board a plane for a flight to Chicago. Brad will report to the Chicago Bears Friday morning to begin training for the coming grid season with that professional club.

Tax rate of Jones County has been cut 30 cents on the $100 valuation in a move made by the State Automatic Tax Board. The saving will amount to an estimated $72,000 for Jones County taxpayers, according to County Judge Roger Garrett.

Twenty charter members were enrolled in the organization of a new Hamlin Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday evening. The new group was sponsored by the Anson B&PW Club.

Bill Terry, veteran Hamlin gin and cotton man, has been elected president of the West Texas Ginners Association. He was named at a business session of the organization Wednesday at Abilene.

ONE YEAR AGO.

Considered news one year ago in the Hamlin community were the following briefs, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 22, 1955:

Biggest haul ever made in a day morning in the "flats" resulted in the arrest of 58 men and women. The drive, centering on the Jitterbug Inn, was made by Sheriff Dave Reves and city officers. Court was called after the round-up, about 2:30 Monday morning at the city hall, with City Judge Willard Jones and Justice of the Peace Joe Mathis of Anson dividing the defendants. Fines of $14.70 each were assessed in most cases.

Boy Scouts of the Northern District of the Chisholm Trail Council will meet at Hamlin Sunday afternoon at the new swimming pool in the City Park for a swim tournament.

Practice of Farm Safety Principles Could Save Loss to Injuries-Property

Walter T. McKay, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, has asked that all FHA employees do everything they can to help promote farm safety and encourage greater effort in helping to reduce the tragedies and losses caused by needless accidents, Leonard C. Williams, county supervisor, advised this week.

The president has proclaimed the week beginning July 22 as National Farm Safety Week. In urging full participation in this campaign, McKay stated that in one year the farm accident toll was 14,500 people killed and another 1,250,000 injured. In addition, the money loss represented by farm accidents and also by fires probable runs around a billion dollars a year—the human misery cannot even be measured, McKay said.

"It is the policy of Farmers Home Administration to promote safety among its borrowers as part of its service to farm families," McKay stated. "We don't think of safety as a separate and distinct but as an inseparable part of our entire program. Our three safety aims are:

First to improve the health and welfare of families by eliminating safety hazards on farms and in homes; second, to reduce families' financial losses caused by accidents and fires; and third, to make farm production more efficient by reducing or minimizing accidental injuries and illness.

In summary, McKay advised that Farmers Home Administration is interested in every borrower making his farm a safe place to live and work, while he improves his family's economic condition. The two go together, and lack of one can be the undoing of the other.

Seth Adams to Coach Army Football Team

Seth Adams Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Adams Sr. of Hamlin, will get to follow some of his life work as he begins his service in the Army.

Stationed now at Fort Lewis, Washington, near Tacoma, he will coach the 71st Division football team beginning August 10.

Young Adams, a graduate of Texas Tech at Lubbock, was coach at Santa Rosa, New Mexico, High School before going into the Army in April, 1955.

THIS MATTER OF TRAFFIC SAFETY IS PERSONAL

Many of us in the Hamlin community have come to look upon traffic fatalities as something that always happens to other people or in other areas. They are seldom conceived as happening to our family or in our community. But this matter of traffic accidents and fatalities is a personal thing. It involves our own lives and those of our families.

And vacation time with its increased travel brings traffic accidents more in focus, emphasizing the importance of traffic safety.

Warm weather brings certain reactions in the American home. The family car gets a wash and polish job. Road maps become interesting reading. We wonder what ravages winter has done to the cottage on the lake.

It's a sobering thought that for many persons busy with happy plans for summer time travel those plans will be the last they'll ever make because they're going to be part of the statistics that chronicle the awful traffic toll exacted on our highways.

The saddest part about highway deaths and injuries is that they don't have to happen. Common sense can prevent that terrible waste of human life.

Summer travel brings the heaviest traffic load to the open highway. With more cars in America than ever before we can expect that this summer the load will be the greatest ever.

More cars increase the probability of traffic accidents, place even more importance on common sense driving.

An appeal to common sense is embodied in the slogan, "Slow Down and Live" which has been adopted for the nation-wide summer highway safety campaign sponsored by the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators and conducted from Memorial Day through Labor Day.

It makes sense because dangerous speed is the primary factor in the traffic accident toll.

Dangerous speed means exceeding posted limits, driving too fast for road and weather conditions, passing without caution, pressing too close to the car ahead and failing to yield the right-of-way—all symptoms of reckless haste that has no place on a highway.

Roads can be engineered for safety. Traffic engineers can devise the best possible systems of moving the vehicle flow swiftly yet safely. But the final determination of whether or not an accident is going to happen rests in the mental attitude of the driver, who can well take to heart the admonition of the Texas Safety Association "Slow Down and Live" and thereby make the summer travel a source of pleasure instead of pain for himself and others.

A Helping Hand

A blind lady was standing on the curb waiting to cross the street. When a man came by, she said, "Would you kindly help me across the street?"

The man replied, "With the greatest of pleasure, lady."

When the other curb had been reached, the man was so persistent in asking her if she was all right that she said, "Why do you worry so much? Is there something wrong?"

He said, "No, nothing wrong, lady, but I know your difficulties—I am blind, too."

Nations Are Like Gardeners

A well kept garden is beautiful and may appear free of pestilence. But every gardener knows the garden's beauty will soon decay and fall into ruin without constant care and protection from weeds, rodents, insects, fungi and its other enemies.

Where Government Is Boss

In a competitive economy, free of government controls and other artificial restrictions, consumers get the goods they want. If one concern fails to produce them, another will—and it will get the business. If one store fails to stock them, a competitor down the block will—and it, too, will get the business.

But the situation is enormously different where government is the boss. For instance, The New York Herald Tribune carried this news item a short time ago, under a Moscow dateline: "Letters from angry Russians in villages that do not have electricity were printed in 'Pravda' today. They complained that village stores are out of kerosene lamps and flashlights but have plenty of electric light bulbs on hand."

Now Russia, where the state owns practically everything, is an extreme example. But the situation is similar in any country where government wields a big stick over business. There is no need for producers or retailers to go out of their way to please the customer—for the economy is run on the "take what is offered or go without" system.

Secondly, the consumer gets a far better run for his money in the competitive economy. Where the state sets prices, it usually incorporates a very high profit—and no one can do anything about it. But where manufacturer must compete against manufacturer and merchant must compete against merchant in order to attract a critical public, profits, of necessity, are held to the lowest possible levels.

What's a Billion?

In these days of high finance, it is interesting to find some figures that bring home the immensity of a billion.

A billion dollar bills laid end to end would encircle the earth nearly four times. If you made 11 trips from New York City to Miami, Florida, by car or rail (14 trips by air) you would cover a distance of nearly a billion inches. A propeller on a pursuit plane traveling 300 miles per hour would turn a billion times if the plane would cruise continuously (24 hours a day) for nearly two years. And a billion minutes sounds like we have months of time but it would actually carry us back to the year 45 A. D.

Editorial of the Week

INTERPOSITION IS FOOLISH

Under the constitution of the United States the people have protection against all the branches of government. At any time, on any issue, two-thirds of the states can nullify any action of Congress, the president or the Supreme Court. But, being a democracy, one or a few states are not given that right. The Southern states claimed the right to secede back in 1860, with the bloodiest war in our national history resulting.

The doctrine of interposition, new version, apparently claims the right of the minority to do what it pleases. Any federal law or court decision which Texans don't like, for instance, could be nullified by voting interposition. If the federal government allowed such action to stand, it would ultimately result in a breakdown of the United States into 48 feudal states with no central government. If the federal government sent troops or other enforcement officers into that state in order to see that federal law was enforced, our government would be accused of dictator tactics. Now, please do not misunderstand us. There are a lot of things the federal government has done that we disagree with—and violently. But adopting any such theory as interposition, which is contrary to all concepts of democratic government and sets up the theory that the minority can rule, is not the answer.

We must continue to fight our battles in Congress, in the courts and at the polls, and if we are right we will win. Any other course can only result in racial hatred, bloodshed and possibly even another civil war. Let's not place ourselves in that position by endorsing any such theory as interposition.—The Crosbyton Review.

Claude M. Arnold, Former Railroad Man, Succumbs

Claude M. Arnold, former engineer on the Santa Fe Railway, succumbed last Thursday at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital after an illness of about a year.

Funeral rites for the 70-year-old railroad man were conducted Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, of which he was a member. Officiating was Rev. Houston Walker of Lubbock, former pastor, and Rev. Donald Wellman, pastor of the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene.

Interment was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were J. W. Reynolds, W. H. Murphree, Joe Dillingham, E. D. Smith, M. G. Johnson and Fred C. Smith.

Arnold was born in Harrison, Arkansas on June 7, 1886, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Arnold. He married the former Lillie Ruth Hileman in New Mexico, on May 10, 1909.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lillie Ruth Arnold of Hamlin; one step-son, George Willis of Hamlin; two brothers, Ralph Arnold of Los Angeles, California, and Marion Arnold of Silverton; one sister, Mrs. Charlie Hudson of Los Angeles, California; and 10 step-great-grandchildren.

MISSING—James W. Ingram Jr., former Houston real estate appraiser who handled numerous matters for the Harris County probate court and for the Veterans Administration, has been missing since June 9 with his wife and two daughters. Business associates report having received letters from Australia, in which Ingram said he would not return.

Democratic Executive Committee—Bland Harper.

For Precinct Chairman, Election Precinct No. 6—Robert R. Wyche and Riley Spraberry.

For Precinct Chairman, Election Precinct No. 7—Ora Lee Cook.

For Precinct Chairman, Election Precinct No. 12—J. Spurgeon Reeves.

For Precinct Chairman, Election Precinct No. 15—Mrs. Walter Grainger.

THE FARM PROBLEM . . .

Refer to my previous article in your newspaper on this subject. Eastern promoters and big corporations are forcing the middle class and small farmers and ranchers out of business. There were 5,282,000 farms in the United States in 1950, a decrease of over one million farms since World War I. At the present rate at which the medium and small farmer is being forced out of business, by 1958 there will be considerably less than five million farms even though the population is increasing. The medium and little fellow has not got a chance where the big Eastern interests are moving in with large scale farms and mass production. The farmers, by necessity, are going to the city and becoming factory workers. The farmer does not have the purchasing power of the individual. Farm parity is at its lowest in 14 years and headed lower and lower. Self interest groups will see to this. The Federal government wants to control the farmers and tell them what to do. The rancher and the farmer are sick and tired of all this fancy talk and conversation. Our politicians are pumping billions of dollars of credit into our financial systems to keep high industrial prices forcing up the prices of automobiles, manufactured goods, machinery to win the Eastern votes while causing a depression and deflation in the ranching and farming areas. The farmer and rancher are getting poorer and poorer, while the Eastern industrialist, the millionaire who was a millionaire before the present evil income tax law was passed, is getting richer and richer. The small banks in the 17th Congressional District financing the farmers and ranchers are going to have a tough time, because self interest groups in the East are out to get the farmer. Their manipulations will make them richer while the farmer and rancher will be forced out of business and these self interest groups will take over. These evil manipulators are advising the small and medium farmer to sell out while the selling is good. Only the big boys can stick it out during this tough period unless, we, the people all over the land, go to the polls and vote a sweeping stop to all of this monkey business. It is just plain nonsense when the cost of transportation and distribution from the farm to the consumer exceeds the price the farmer and rancher get for their own products, when the farmer and rancher take all the risk, invest all the money, all the time and everything else. The politicians are giving the farmer and rancher nothing but conversation. The farmer and rancher are speeding toward a depression in the midst of plenty because of one big giveaway program and Eastern manipulators and politicians who do not have the courage to solve the problem in the only manner it can be solved. Abolish the evil income tax law, take the government economists by the ears and have them come up with a program including a soil bank for the big commercial absentee ownership farmer and big corporation farms while the medium and smaller farms will be allowed a limited production all the conditions to match 100 per cent parity. Refer again to my previous article on the farm problem which was published in your local newspaper. God willing, you can send at least one man to Washington who will speak for you. Go to the polls in the July 28 primary and vote!

Mrs. Egger to Direct Workshop for Girls at Lubbock Conference

Mrs. Darris L. Egger, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be the leader of a special workshop and clinic for girls of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference in connection with the school of missions of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, at St. John's Methodist Church at Lubbock, Monday, July 30, through Friday, August 3.

All Methodist women in the conference, plus qualified girls who are juniors or seniors in high school or older, are eligible to attend.

Each woman attending will select one study course and may secure credit. Each girl attending may select "Paul's Letter to the Local Churches," "Southeast Asia" or "Missions—U. S. A."

Cottage Cheese May Find Many Uses

Cottage cheese is a year-round favorite when it comes to dairy foods. It is a good buy, too, according to Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County home demonstration agent. Top quality protein, calcium, the B vitamins and all the other minerals and vitamins of milk are offered in this easy-to-prepare, versatile and inexpensive food.

An average serving of about three-fourths cup will furnish about half the protein needed daily by adults. Low in calories, but filling, it is an ideal food to include in a reducing diet.

Use cottage cheese to prepare quick salads, budget stretching main dishes and tasty desserts for summer-time meals.

LOSE UGLY FAT IN TEN DAYS OR MONEY BACK

If you are overweight, here is the first really thrilling news to come along in years. A new and convenient way to get rid of extra pounds easier than ever, so you can be as slim and trim as you want. This new product called DIATRON curbs both hunger and appetite. No drugs, no diet, no exercise. Absolutely harmless. When you take DIATRON you still enjoy your meals, still eat the foods you like, but you simply don't have the urge for extra portions, and automatically your weight must come down, because, as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Excess weight endangers your heart, kidneys. So no matter what you have tried before, get DIATRON and prove to yourself what it can do. DIATRON is sold on this guarantee: You must lose weight with the first package you use or the package costs you nothing. Just return the bottle to your druggist and get your money back. DIATRON costs $3.00 and is sold with this strict money back guarantee by Howard City Drug Store, Hamlin. Mail orders filled.

More Than 100 at Cox-Cooley-Jones Reunion at Lubbock

More than 100 relatives were present Sunday for the fourth annual Cox-Cooley-Jones family reunion at McKenzie State Park at Lubbock. Attending were the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cooley and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones, all of whom were born in the same community in Arkansas.

The group enjoyed talking over old times and making pictures. Of course, a sumptuous basket picnic lunch was the center of interest at the noon hour.

All the Cox children except one, all of the Cooley children except two, and all of the Jones children except one were present.

Attendees were present from the following cities: Grand Prairie, Dallas, Fort Worth, Albany, Hawley, Anson, Hamlin, Snyder, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Slaton, Lubbock, Colorado City, Littlefield, Sudan, Olton, Muleshoe, Portales and Hobbs, New Mexico; and Minnami, Arizona.

Seasoning Important To Tasty Foods, Says Demonstration Agent

Sometimes it is the seasoning that makes a dish so good the family calls for second and third helpings. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County home demonstration agent, says a variety of seasonings will make fresh vegetables more popular—and plenty of vegetables means improved diets.

Try these simple seasonings to give those vegetables new life: Cook a tablespoon or two of minced onion, green pepper or parsley with snap beans or yellow squash.

Cook a few mint leaves with English peas.

Put a pinch of your favorite herbs in the water when you cook lima beans.

Go easy with these seasonings. Their pungency easily overshadows the delicate flavors of vegetables.

Point up the flavor of cooked vegetables by seasoning with flavorful fats such as bacon drippings, butter or margarine, or salad oil to which lemon juice, horse-radish or a whisper of garlic has been added. If you use bacon drippings, add bits of crisp bacon. These are especially good with greens.

Martha Hubbard to Wed Lubbock Man

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hubbard are this week announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Martha, to Raymond Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Clayton of Dalhart.

The wedding will take place Saturday, September 1, in the First Baptist Church at Hamlin. Miss Hubbard is a graduate of Hamlin High School and is employed at the Farmers & Merchants National Bank in Hamlin. Young Clayton is a graduate of Texas Technological College at Lubbock and is employed at the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill at Lubbock.

Charles Darwin is credited with the theory of "the survival of the fittest."

Poultry, Beef and Several Fruits on Plentiful Foods List

Supplies of broilers and fryers are making prices which should prove popular with consumers. August supplies are expected to be 20 per cent above a year ago, with average of nearly 29,000,000 birds going to market weekly. Prices are running 20 to 22 per cent below last year.

Too, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced that the turkey crop is at least one-third larger than a year ago, with the heavy breed hens and toms making up most of the excess.

Food shoppers will also find plenty of beef available. Large quantities of all grades are expected for August.

Fresh plums and Bartlett pears are two plentiful fruits listed. The plum market has its peak supply in August, and prices usually break.

Other plentiful listed for August include fresh and processed lemons, peanuts, peanut butter, rice and hens.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests that menus featuring broilers and fryers or even turkeys be used during the coming month because of the supplies and favorable prices of these food products.

Prices of Cattle Hold Up on Crest of Optimistic Stocker-Feeder Buying

Cattle prices were carried along on the crest of a wave of optimistic stocker and feeder buying at Fort Worth Monday, and prices were firm to unevenly higher, declares Ted Goudy, special market reporter for The Herald, in his weekly release. He continues: Slaughter cattle ruled steady, and stocker and feeder cattle and calves were strong to 50 cents or more up.

Fleshy feeder steers and yearlings fat enough for a quick turn in the feed lot, sold at the best prices in a couple of months. Some near 800-pound feeder steers topped at $19, and some heavier feeders weighing 900 to 1,050 pounds sold in the $16.50 to $17.50 range, some steers weighing 1,038 pounds cashed at $17.50 for feeders.

The strong replacement market stemmed from the recent report that there were actually 11 per cent fewer cattle on feed in the 11 Corn Belt states than a year ago July 1. Another strong point in the feeders' optimistic plans was the fact that finished heaves have been selling higher recently and are currently bringing the highest prices at Fort Worth since last October.

Some over 500-pound steer calves topped at $19, and good and choice kinds cashed readily at $16 to $19. Stocker cow trade again was dull due to hot, dry weather and declining pasture conditions.

In Monday's trade at Fort Worth good to choice steers and yearlings cashed at $16.50 to $21.50, some 1,300-pound steers at the top figure. Fed heifers sold from $20.50 down. Lower grade butcher cattle sold from $12 to $16. Fat cows drew $9.50 to $12. Some mixed cows and heifers drew $6 to $9.50. Bulls sold mostly $9 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter calves drew $15 to $17, and medium and lower grades $9 to $14. Stocker steer calves of good and choice kind brought $16 to $19, and stocker and feeder steers and yearlings mostly $17 to $17.50, and choice fleshy feeders $17.50 to $19.

Very few high grade sheep or lambs arrived to test values in the trade at Fort Worth Monday, but prices were fully steady. Some good to choice fat lambs sold from $17 to $19, but strictly choice were quotable to $20. Cull to medium killers sold from $11 to $16. Stocker and feeder lambs were quoted from $12 to $16, with few offered eligible to sell over $15. Slaughter yearlings, when good or choice, drew $15 to $17, and lower grade yearling muttons sold from $10 to $14. Two-year-old muttons sold at $14 down. Old wethers brought $8 to $12. Slaughter ewes cashed at $4 to $5, and old bucks sold around $4 to $5. Breeding ewes were scarce.

Choice meat hogs topped at $16.50 to $16.75 Monday, and this was 50 to 75 cents higher than the close last week at Fort Worth. Less desirable weights and grades sold from $13 to $16, and packing sows were strong at $12 to $14.

A check-up of railway and truck shipments off the yards at Fort Worth following the special stocker and feeder sales held there recently showed that the cattle and calves got extremely wide distribution.

Western states receiving cattle

from these states included California, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico. Corn Belt states included Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. Other states included Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi.

To indicate the virtually coast-to-coast distribution in this one stocker sale, here are some Eastern states that got cattle that got cattle that day from Fort Worth: Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina and Pennsylvania.

Those little Texas cattle really roamed!

Market observers at Fort Worth agree that August is shaping up as a month of heavy cattle shipping this year, unless something unprecedented in the way of rainy weather comes.

To avoid undue pressure on prices, market agencies advise careful selection of marketing days to avoid excess bunching of receipts, and spread of the receipts through the week to avoid heavy concentrations on Monday and Tuesday.

The surprising strength in the past two weeks despite heavy runs has been credited to spreading the receipts through the week.

WIDE OPEN SPACES

The cowhand had not been feeling well and the first chance he got he went to town for a thorough physical check-up. After it was over, the doctor said:

"You have a little lung trouble. Could you arrange to sleep out-of-doors?"

"Wa-al," drawled the cowpuncher, "I been sleepin' under the chuck wagon all summer, but I reckon I could kick a couple spokes outa the wheels."

22 from Jones County Shown as Attendants At North Texas State

Jones County was represented by 22 students at North Texas State College in Denton at the school year just ended, the registrar's office reported this week in a release to The Herald.

Cumulative enrollment for the nine-month session was 6,342. These students came from 207 of the state's 254 counties, from 33 other states and from 11 foreign countries.

These figures reflect the trend developed in the past three years at North Texas State of an enrollment increase of from 400 to 600 students each year.

To serve this steadily growing student body, the college will put into use three new buildings in 1956, complete two others in 1957, and begin construction of five more in 1958, President J. C. Matthews has announced.

VISIT IN FORT WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Howard Jr. and children, Helen and John III, are visiting this week in Fort Worth with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tinsley.

PROGRESS HALTED.

"Mama," called out the little boy left in charge of his small brother, "say something to Herbie."

"Why? What's the matter with Herbie?" the mother wanted to know.

"He's sitting on the fly-paper," came the response, "and there's a lot of flies waiting to get on."

OPEN LETTER TO ALL THE WOMEN IN THE 17TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

You women are accused of thinking with your emotions. There is nothing wrong in this, because God gave you emotions before He taught men with intelligence.

You women have been asking why should your sons and husbands, cousins, nephews and friends go off to war and then when one war is finished, others start; and why should all this tax money be given to foreigners who once hated and killed and disabled your men folk, and to the foreign friends who have been doing a lot of talking but no acting. Your sons, husbands, relatives and friends died in Korea while the rest of the world sat back and took your tax dollars and our politicians fed hundreds of thousands of Chinese Nationalist soldiers taking it easy on Formosa. These Chinese were eager to assist and fight the Red Chinese—but no, our politicians would not have it. Your sons, husbands, relatives and friends died in Korea because our politicians blundered.

Who can explain the pointless sacrifice of any mother's son? How are the politicians explaining all this to a Gold Star Mother or a soldier's wife? W can the politicians say to women whose loved ones were blown to bits on a foreign battlefield fighting for something the whole world should have prevented? How can the politicians explain to you women that we had atomic weapons, aircraft and the means of delivery, but none of this was used while your son, husband and friend might have been saved but died in vain?

And now the administration wants to give billions more to our foreign friends and scatter our military men to the four corners of the earth with no assurance that our modern atomic weapons will be used in our boys' defense. Keep our boys at home, and develop such mighty air power, with atomic and hydrogen bombs and the means of delivery that no nation on earth will dare to humiliate us again as they did in Korea and at the conference tables in the past and present.

We are in a push-button war era. The days of the foot soldier are gone. If a Godless nation threatens our peace, wipe it off the face of the earth with our atomic weapons and air power! We need not sacrifice our boys' lives on foreign soil.

If our politicians and military personnel tell us this can't be done, it is high time each and everyone of us find out what has been going on all these years since we have given billions of our hard earned money for the defense of our country to make it the most powerful nation on earth.

If there is to be another war, and the foot soldier is necessary, I suggest we put all the politicians in the front lines, and they can go in with the first wave.

Fisher County Placed In Grain Program

Fisher County has been designated for assistance under the emergency feed grain program of the federal government, according to Walter T. McKay, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, in a release to John D. Wolf Jr., acting county supervisor.

Farmers Home Administration county committees may now take applications from farmers and ranchers through August 31, 1956, to provide feed for basic livestock herds through September 30.

POOLS AND CREEKS ONLY—Most of the water remaining in Garza-Little Elm reservoir, which at the start of the year covered several thousand acres, now can be found only in small pools and in the channel leading from Lake Dallas. A large lake is located to the left of the channel above, but high land has cut off its exit through the channel and out of the gates into the Dallas water system.

Dave Reves Makes Statement in Bid for Reelection as Sheriff

Dave Reves, candidate for reelection to the office of sheriff of Jones County, makes the following statement:

In expressing my thanks for your past, present and future support, I submit the following statement:

It has been a great pleasure to serve as your sheriff the past three years six months plus some days, and I have enjoyed being of service to you. Everything has not been perfect, but life is not perfect. I have worked very hard to render you good service from the sheriff's office of Jones County.

There are some, a small minority, who organize and coordinate their efforts to evade peace officers to the best of their abilities. Because of these people, peace officers need as nearly perfect coordination as is possible. Your sheriff's office has had fine coordination with city and county officers of Jones County; also the officers of other cities and counties as well as state and federal officers. We have strived to render other officers efficient service, and in return we have received very good service from them.

I am a graduate of Stamford High School and Hardin-Simmons University, where I played football, basketball and competed in track and field events. I am a member and steward of the Methodist Church. I am also a member of the American Legion and Lions Club. My family consists of my wife, the former Estelle Winkles of Lueders; a son, David Jr., nine; two daughters, Susan, seven, and Sharon, four. I think I have as fine a family as anyone. I am 42 years of age and am a veteran of World War II.

Your sheriff's office has filed a number of cases since January 1, 1953, and our record of arrests and apprehensions is as good as any peace officer's organization. Approximately 99 percent of the cases filed and tried have resulted in conviction. Records bear this out.

I have as much time as anyone, 24 hours per day, seven days per week. However, the duties of the sheriff's office have been heavy, and to me duty comes first. Consequently, I have not made an extensive political campaign.

My pledge is honest, impartial, efficient and consistent service to all.

Sincerely I solicit your vote and influence for reelection. Thanks—Dave Reves.

Talk on Metallic Rules Given Lions By Austin Siburt

Austin Siburt, minister of the Hamlin Church of Christ, spoke on "The Three Metallic Rules" as the program feature at the regular Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

He declared the iron rule of "might makes right" had been exemplified by great warriors of the past and recent years; the silver rule of negative action that prohibited and banned evil action but offered little encouragement for good deeds, as practiced by Confucius; and the golden rule that set out principles of doing good to others along with abstaining from evil as exemplified by Christianity. He also used the parable of the Good Samaritan as demonstrating all three tenets.

The Lions Club was advised by Jess Parrish, manager of the swimming pool at the City Park, that a life saving training school is being planned for August by two Marine Corps sergeants out of Abilene. The men have offered their expert services without charge if their expenses are paid by interesting persons and organizations.

President Edgar Duncan announced that a light bulb sale would be conducted Saturday in Hamlin by members of the Boys Club, which is being sponsored by the Lions Club. "Buy a bag of light bulbs from the boys, and both the boys and Lions will share in the proceeds," Duncan urged.

Pied Piper Grid Schedule Opens With Roby Game

Hamlin High School's Pied Piper football crew will officially open their 1956 grid season with a tilt against the Roby High School Lions at Roby, it was revealed this week as the new football schedule was released.

Five home games and five contests away from home are on the bill of fare this season. Placed in a new arrangement of teams in the area, there are only three conference melees on the schedule. In the new loop are Hamlin, Seymour, Stamford and Anson.

The complete schedule follows: September 7—Roby at Roby. September 13—Spur at Spur. September 21—Merkin at Hamlin.

September 28—Rotan at Hamlin.

October 5—Winters at Hamlin.

October 12—Colorado City at Hamlin.

October 19—Albany at Albany.

October 26—Seymour at Seymour.

November 2—Stamford at Hamlin.

November 9—Anson at Anson.

Our Rights

Americans who have stood for individual liberties and states' rights have been the victims of every cowardly device of human speech. Ridicule, distortion, lying, vile epithets, venomous whisperings, false rumor-mongering, base slander, libel, character assassination—all are weapons of the human tongue wielded with the intent of destroying any and all Americans who have dared to warn their fellow countrymen of the state of our political affairs.

I stand before you ready to serve the people of the 17th Congressional District and the State of Texas and bring the government back home to the states where it belongs.

God willing, we will provide for this representation at the polls on July 28th.

Moyne L. KELLY

Candidate for Reelection

State Representative

(Jones, Stonewall, King and Dickens Counties)

To the Citizens of the 85th District:

GREETINGS FROM YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE!

It has been a great experience to represent you good people in the Legislature of Texas. I can assure you that it is a most sincere and serious job. The matter of passing laws or instituting legislation takes on many forms, if all of the people are represented. Laws are passed to protect, to improve, to establish, to prevent, to remove, to alleviate, to inaugurate, to restrain, and to help the greatest number of people in the Big State of Texas. If a legislator keeps these things in mind during his deliberations, he cannot be far from right when action is taken on legislative matters.

PAST:

1. During these two years that I have served as your representative, I have done my best to live, act, and work, so as to be worthy of your friendship, loyalty and confidence.

2. Thanks again and again, for the opportunity to serve you in the Texas Legislature, and for your many kindnesses and courtesies.

PRESENT:

1. Although I do not have an opponent this time, I am asking strongly for your votes on July 28, 1956. It will be worth much to me to have a full expression of your confidence.

2. Because I have not seen each of you personally, and solicited your vote, does not mean that I have slighted you or that my enthusiasm for this work has slackened the least bit.

3. Thanks for your vote on July 28, 1956.

FUTURE:

1. I am very much interested in what all of us in the 85th District can do to help ourselves, through legislation, and at the same time not hurt anybody outside of our district.

2. Let us take inventory of our RESOURCES, POSSIBILITIES and DREAMS during the next five months and work together to set up in our district a program of improvement and development that might be implemented, in any way, by legislative action.

TO THE CITIZENS OF JONES COUNTY AND OF THE 104TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT:

Due to a heavy schedule in the courts, it has been impossible for me to see as many of you personally as I otherwise would have done, so hereby respectfully solicit your vote and support for reelection as District Judge, on the basis of my record in this judicial office. I feel that you are familiar with my record.

With deep appreciation for the confidence you have placed in me through the years, I shall continue to conduct the courts in the district fairly and impartially and in a manner in keeping with the dignity and responsibilities of the office and ever strive to remain worthy of your confidence.

City and Town Taxes Increasing Faster Than Other Costs, Roger Babson Says

City and town taxes are discussed in this week's release to The Herald by Roger W. Babson, internationally known economist and analyst, who is a regular contributor to columns of Your Home Town Paper. He writes:

Babson

I am concerned much about the continued upturn in municipal and town taxes. In 1955 the "tax bite" of cities in the United States will amount to over $65 per person, compared with $61 in 1953 and $56 in 1952. I am especially disappointed with the very little attention which the conference on education, recently held at Washington, D. C., gave to this important subject.

A study of 481 U. S. cities with populations of 25,000 or more shows that local taxes accounted for about one-half of total municipal revenues from all sources, including federal and state grants for education, road building and other purposes. The rapid rate at which these taxes have been increasing in recent years points up the fact that municipal debts are also growing larger.

In fact, city debt increased seven per cent during 1955 to a record level of $12,200,000,000 for cities of over 25,000 population. As a result, the average debt per capita in these cities is $196. In New York City the per capita debt was over $600 per person and is still rising. I predict a further boost in city and town taxes and debts in 1956.

Obviously, city debts are rising faster than city tax rates, even though the latter are becoming more and more burdensome, especially to owners of real estate. Why should city debt be rising so fast at this point in our history when general business is at record high levels? Of course, costs of city services are up all along the line, but that is only part of the story. Raw material and labor costs also adversely affect manufacturers of many products, but the prices of those products have not soared as much as city taxes.

In some cases, the city tax load has been permitted to become burdensome because of poor municipal management or downright mismanagement. There are many localities where money goes down the drain because accounting, purchasing and other procedures need tightening, but even these loose policies do not fully explain our plight.

Of course, our cities and towns are over-spending. Municipal, county and state governments all over the country are living well beyond their means. In many cases, they are forced to do so because of heavy popular demand for luxuries in the form of ornate school buildings, careless road planning with little thought of future needs, expensive recreational services and equipment.

When I was a boy, cities were expected to provide fire and police protection, water and sewage systems and also good schools. Now the people are demanding many additional services, often of no real value and all of them very costly. I believe in parking lots for their cars; but not buildings, mislabeled "schools" for mothers to park their children. It is ironic that cities along the sea coast in New England have built municipal swimming pools for children and adults! We provide busses to take the children to school and then build gymnasiums to exercise them when they arrive. I walked four miles each day for 10 years to get an education, and am still alive!

We are now at peace, even though the world is troubled. We are prospering as no other people have prospered before. But I believe that had times will come again. We shall again be called upon to make sacrifices to preserve our political and economic freedom, as these are threatened by war or depression. These sacrifices will be easier to make, and our efforts will be more effective if we now pay closer attention to tax and debt policies and to efficient government.

The menace to our economy and to our way of life from political extravagance at all levels is a very real one. We must learn again that thrift is the main-

CONVENTIONS

(concluded from page one) all over Texas hinges party and policy control of the state party machinery for the ensuing two years, Edwards points out, as new members of the state executive committee will be selected at the state Democratic convention, to be held September 11.

Delegates from all counties in Texas to the state convention will be the ones who will select their state committeemen and state committeewomen from each state senatorial district to sit on the state executive committee for the ensuing two years. They are the legally elected representatives of the Democrats of Texas, and to them falls the responsibility of abiding by the wishes of the Democrats of Texas as a whole, Edwards said.

The kids in the grandstand are yelling, "Strike him out!" and our young pitcher is going to do exactly that. This is his day for a shut-out game ... his day to win.

He's feeling pretty good about it, and who's to blame him? But what if things had gone the other way? What if some other boy had been warming up in the bullpen, about to have taken his place? But he is a well-balanced youngster, and he would have taken that in stride, too.

He has learned about being a good sport about regard for his fellow men, and about many other equally important things in Church. For, like thousands of other American youngsters, the Church already plays an important part in his life. That is one reason why his parents have faith in the fact that he will grow up to be a pretty fine man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DAN KRALIS

CANDIDATE FOR
UNITED STATES CONGRESS

UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVE

17TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

THIS MAN KRALIS ... His Campaign Fund

Dan was born in an average family when the dead of World War I were being listed in the newspapers throughout the country. His father was a fireman on the railroad. His mother came from a farm family.

Young Dan took great enthusiasm in his history studies. At the age of 11 he debated the cause of the South. At 15 was called "Johnny Reb" and more often "Old Hickory." History and research revealed to him that slavery was not the instrumental cause of the Civil War, but rather an afterthought promulgated by Northern radicals. Greedy Northern industrialists were out to crush the stable agricultural economy of the South by hook or crook.

In fact, the slaves in the South were being rapidly freed by the Southerners themselves and many Negro families insisted on staying with the plantation owners and did not want their so-called "freedom." Given time, all the Negro population in the South would have been freed by 1870. Robert E. Lee freed his slaves before the Civil War.

Few people know that the Emancipation Proclamation applied only to freeing the slaves in those states in the Confederacy. The slaves legally were still slaves in the slave states that fought on the Union side.

At the age of 21 young Dan moved to Alabama, in the deep South, and pursued his studies of the Southern cause, the reconstruction period. He relived every terrible moment, visiting the ruins, and recognizing the pathetic conditions even 77 years after the ending of the Civil War.

Young Dan stood before a federal bureaucratic meeting in Birmingham and told those in charge that, instead of spending the taxpayers' money in useless conversation, they had better go about the job they were hired to do and do it right. He walked out of the meeting, which broke up soon thereafter following his suggestions.

Dan is the type of fellow who, at the age of 16, rang the school bell 20 minutes early to allow 100 cold and shivering children to go inside of a warm building. He incurred the wrath of the principal but also his everlasting admiration.

He was captain of the basketball team, baseball team and track team. He was elected president of his senior class by acclamation. He played in the band and acted in the school plays.

He worked his way through high school and college. He worked as a ditch digger, truck driver, steel mill worker and farm hand.

He was the type of fellow who went on a college geological field trip with no money to pay for his food. When the professor offered to pay for the meals, Dan said he was just sick and didn't feel like eating. Dan went on the field trip for two days without food. In fact, Dan and his brother, Frank, lived for two weeks while attending college on 50 cents worth of rice and onions. He had one short suit and two pairs of trousers.

Dan is not ashamed of his background. He loves America and he loves the South.

Dan is a loyal Texan and, needless to say, an present student of Texas history. He points to other Texan United States representatives, including Sam Rayburn; not to mention past great Texans like Sam Houston, Bowie and Crockett and many others who are all adopted Texans like him-self.

Dan Kralis is so conscientious about the platform he is running on that he decided to refuse all campaign donations—although he needs campaign funds badly.

He has exhausted his finances to present his view-points to the voters. Dan Kralis feels that he represents all the people and not a selected few. He believes in statesmanship and not backroom politics.

This is the type of man you will vote for on July 28—fearless, persistent, reasonable, open-minded, a man's man, a true representative of the people, self made, and a loyal American and true Texan. Once again we are at the cross-roads in history and the destiny of man.

The issues are identical with those preceding the Revolutionary War, the Civil War and a greater issue is also before us. The issue involving the very existence of the American way of life now threatened by global regimentation fostered by "one worlders" and "intellectual do-gooders" who would have us reduce our individuality to a biological social pattern found in the higher insects, ants, bees, etc., and not so efficiently practiced by the Russians. Men like Dan Kralis stand out as pillars of hope to stay the onslaught of this mad rush toward insane oblivion.

Children Deserve Consideration by Adult Motorists

"Children don't think, cars don't think, so you must think!"

Drivers today received that reminder of their responsibility for the safety of children in traffic from E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., as he spoke of the current child pedestrian safety program being sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"Drive as if every child you meet is your own little boy or girl," McFadden said. "If you treat all children as you want other motorists to treat your children, you're not likely to run down a youngster who heedlessly darts into your path."

"This solicitous attitude is necessary," he said, "because children can't be expected to use adult judgment in traffic. On this score, he roundly condemned the driver who fails to give youngsters a break in traffic and who insists on right-of-way and other legal prerogatives."

"It's the nature of youth to be impetuous and sometimes heedless," he said. It's the duty of adults to protect children from the results of their own heedlessness, even if their actions are wrong."

McFadden listed the following rules for drivers to follow in order to do their part in cooperating where children are concerned:

1. Always expect the unexpected where children are concerned.
2. Give young bike riders every break.
3. Drive with extreme caution near schools and playgrounds and any place where children may be expected to gather.
4. Be especially alert in school areas for signs, signals, traffic police, school patrols and for children themselves.

Forms for Returns On New Floor Stocks Tax Available Now

Business firms subject to the new floor stocks tax on products included in the recently passed highway act may now obtain copies of Form 2265 from the Internal Revenue office at Abilene, Administrative Officer A. E. Fogle Jr., has announced. Returns, with payments, are due by October 15.

Increased taxes are levied on floor stocks of the following items on hand as of last July 1: Gasoline; tires of the type used on highway vehicles; truck, bus and trailer chassis and bodies, and tractors. A new tax was imposed on tread rubber of three cents a pound.

EASY STUFF FOR HIM

Army troops were being trained for a secret mission. They were given an extremely tough obstacle course—swimming across a raging river, running up a vertical cliff, scrambling through barbed wire entanglements and climbing a peak with full equipment.

As they came to the end of their training period, a colonel barked to an Ozark Mountain boy in the company:

"How do you like it, soldier?"
"Shucks, sub, it ain't nothin'," drawled the soldier. "Where I come from we have to go through worse country than this to get to the barn!"

Congressman Omar Burleson Discusses Topics Vital to National Administration

Various topics are discussed in this week's release from Congressman Omar Burleson in his column, "Washington: As It Looks from Here." He writes:

An event of no small proportions occurred in the capital city the other day. It made front page news, but not particularly the main headlines. The event was the dedication of the new AFL-CIO building, located just across the park from the White House. President Eisenhower was present to deliver the main dedication speech, and referred to his presence as a "neighborly call from my place across the square."

I have driven by this very fine and impressive $4,000,000 building of seven to eight stories, which dazzles with its symbolic display of wealth and power.

It is said that privately some of the labor leaders are half embarrassed and self-conscious about the swank and conspicuous luxury of their official mansion. On the other hand, many industrial leaders congratulate labor on its outward sign of material success, and regard it as an illustration of the American way of doing things.

Probably no greater pressure has been applied by the president and his top administration officials than was exercised on the foreign aid bill.

In addition to an all-out effort of the administration to have almost twice the amount of money appropriated at this time than was provided last year, the leadership of both the Republicans and Democrats in the Congress also exerted every effort for the authorization of $4,900,000,000 for foreign aid.

The foreign affairs committee cut $1,109,000,000 from the bill, and under the able leadership of Congressman James P. Richards of South Carolina, chairman of the committee, the House of Representatives overrode the request of the president and the top leadership in both sides of the aisle to retain the reduced figure.

Even after the reduction of funds, I could not support the bill for three main reasons: (1) The president has recommended a reappraisal of our entire foreign policy as related to foreign aid; (2) figures show that countries in Europe have recovered economically sufficient to defend themselves, but are not dedicating their resources to their own defenses accordingly; and (3) there remains almost $7,000,000,000 unexpended in the foreign aid "pipeline."

If a reappraisal of our foreign aid is to be undertaken, it seems to me this huge unexpended sum would be sufficient to carry through any mutual security program until conclusions were reached on such a reappraisal.

Other reasons existed to oppose this legislation, but these seem sufficient.

Possibilities for reducing government spending make a much better subject than how our money is being spent.

Hearings are now in progress before the Senate government operations committee on a bill to improve government budgeting and accounting procedures.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has endorsed the bill, which provides that the budget be based on an annual accrued expenditure basis. The bill should greatly

Three Bases for Worthwhile Life Given at Rotary

"Three bases for a worthwhile life are suggested for man," declared Rev. Henry C. Adair, pastor of Faith Methodist Church in Hamlin, when he spoke at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house.

Effort for self preservation, effort to establish a sense of security and for loved ones, and an innate desire to relate himself to God are the three marks of a man showing his worth, Adair declared. He went on to point out that man in himself is worth little chemically—about $1.96.

Adair gave a brief resume of his early life in which he had been a professional soldier, a professional ball player and an alcoholic before entering the ministry.

Guests at the Wednesday noon luncheon, in addition to the day's speaker, were Fred Wimberly and Garland Pearson of Sweetwater; T. O. Feanks of Abilene; and Jay Tow of Amarillo.

Olen Butlers Visit First Time in 3 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Butler and their four children of Redwood, California, visited in the home of his mother, Mrs. Andy Gardner, and his grandmother, Mrs. Della Butler, and other relatives and friends in the Hamlin community last week. This was their first trip back since moving to California over three years ago.

People of the Sunset Baptist Church had the privilege of hearing Butler preach Wednesday evening.

strengthen government's control over the government's financial affairs.

It would save money if properly administered, and equally important, the Congress could more nearly exercise its responsibility.

As pointed out in this column before, the Congress has lost almost one-third of the control over government spending.

When space permits, figures will be given to support this conclusion.

Year's Rain Total Less Than Half of Normal Average

Rainfall in the Hamlin area for the year is less than half the normal average for this time of year, it was revealed Wednesday when tabulations for the period through July 24 were tabulated by The Herald.

Total precipitation for the year was 5.83 inches. This compared with a normal rainfall of about 13 1/2 inches for the same period, according to Bill Rountree, government rain gauger, who maintains gauges at the city pump station.

During June only .03 of an inch of rain was registered, that being on June 25.

Several showers have come during July, the fall being tabulated as follows: July 4, .45 inch; July 7, .44; July 9, .05; July 10, .05; July 20, 1.00; July 23, .13; and July 24, .02.

Democratic Ticket

It was Montaigne who remarked that a "man has need of tough ears to hear himself freely judged." Regardless of how careful and conscientious a man may be, someone is almost always sure to misunderstand his actions and attitudes and utterances. As pointed out in this column before, the Congress has lost almost one-third of the control over government spending. When space permits, figures will be given to support this conclusion.

When a person favors our position, we may refer to him as fair minded. When he opposes our position, we probably pronounce him prejudiced. And in all honesty, must we not admit the possibility of our condemning in an enemy what we condone in a friend? And the chances are that we ourselves do many things that we resent in And if a person does nothing, people will find fault with And if a person does nothing, people will find fault with what he doesn't do; if he does something, they will find fault with what he does do. And while part of the people may applaud what we do part of the time, it is more than probable that part of the people will surely disapprove what we do at any time. When, therefore, we are attempting to please other people (or when others are attempting to please us), we must remember that no mortal man ever lived (and that includes all of us) who has ever pleased anyone all the time—not even himself.

No matter what course a person pursues, someone will wonder why he didn't do something different. So about the best we can do is to conduct ourselves conscientiously according to our best knowledge and sincere convictions and keep our minds always honestly open to the possibility of our own errors—and hope that other men will forgive us our mistakes as we forgive them theirs. And remember always that a man has need of "tough ears" to hear himself freely judged by others.

I have conducted this campaign in the only manner I know—forthright, honest and above board.

You are well acquainted with my viewpoints. I stand ready to serve you in Washington. Your vote is a vote for states' rights, abolishment of the income tax law, a fair deal for the farmer and the working man, for home government, individual liberties, a strong foreign policy, and true and honest representation of the average man and woman, who pay most of the government's bills. God bless each and every one of you.

Most efficiency experts become so "efficiency minded" that they eat, sleep, dream and think of nothing else.

At the funeral of a former president of a large corporation, six of the oldest and most trusted employees were serving as pallbearers. ## Cash Income for State Farms Down First Part of Year

Texas farm cash income dropped 13 per cent during the first five months of this year compared with last year, the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas said this week in a release to The Herald.

The total was $483,638,000 compared with $55,981,000.

Most of the cutback has been due to smaller marketings. Prices averaged three per cent lower than in 1955, the study said.

Income was up in seven of the 17 commodities by these percentages: Peanuts 37, corn 19, poultry 16, grain sorghums 15, milk and milk products 12, fruit and vegetables seven, sheep and lambs seven.

Cash income was lower from hogs, three per cent; wool six, calves 13, eggs 14, cattle 21, cotton 23, mohair 39, oats 44, wheat 70, and flaxseed 83.

The two major Texas products, cattle and cotton, brought more than $60,000,000 less total cash during January-May than last year.

Farm Bureau Helps With Gas Tax Forms

Farmers of the county will be assisted in filling out claims for federal gas refunds at the Farm Bureau office in Anson, it has been announced by Harris Wright, service agent for the bureau.

The refund is to be made on the federal excise tax on gasoline which was used for farming purposes.

Claims for the present tax rate of two cents a gallon must be filed with the U. S. treasury district Director of Internal Revenue on the proper form.

You Can't Buy It at Home

when nobody at home has it for sale

So . . . whose fault is it when this unfortunate condition prevails?

Well, you might say it's everybody's.

SELLERS are to blame . . . who don't keep up with what's new in their lines . . . and who want to keep store just like they did before highways and automobiles rescued buyers from having to take whatever goods it pleased their home storekeepers to carry in stock.

BUYERS are to blame . . . who don't keep neighborhood sellers informed about their needs and wants by the simple process of shopping the home stores regularly . . . and whose wide-ranging buying habits cut down the financial ability of local sellers to keep better assortments of goods.

Many of us fall into both of these categories . . . and don't let our right hands know where our left hands have been shopping.

Shall we, then, EACH look inwardly . . . whether we are Buyer or Seller only . . . or a Buyer-Seller Blend . . . and consider what WE can do to better OURSELVES by enriching our home area's life blood . . . it's trade volume?

It's good pocketbook sense to help keep the community more prosperous where WE work and do business.
